G. O. P. CONTROL OF BOTH HOUSES LOOKS CERTAIN

Republicans Win Most of Senate Races.

The membership of the new house of representatives, as shown by the returns up to the hour of going to press, will be found on page 4.

BY ARTHUR CRAWFORD.

Control of both houses of congress by administration Republicans seems to be in prospect.

The Coolidge landslide made almost a clean sweep in the senatorial elections yesterday and latest returns indicate the radical group has been dislodged from power in the senate as well as in the house.

Out of fourteen doubtful senatorial contests the Republicans seem to have won twelve, their victories being more sweeping than any of their managers had dared to predict.

Brookhart Running Behind.

In addition to the wave of sentiment for Coolidge and against the radical Republicans seems to have carried to defeat Senator Brookhart (Rep., Ind.). With about half of the precincts heard from, Daniel F. Steck, Democratic nominee, was leading by 4,000. Senator Brookhart, who has been one of the most conspicuous of the La Follette group, was considered certain of election.

The radicals met disaster all along the line. Partial returns point to the defeat of Senator Magnus Johnson (Farmer-Labor, Minn.), by Representative Schall, Republican nominee.

Of three La Follette senators running for reelection Senator Norris (Rep., Neb.), was the only one whose election was assured early this morning.

Probable Republican victories include that of Fred M. Sackett in Kentucky over Senator Stanley (Dem.). Of the doubtful senatorial contests the Democrats may have won only Tennessee, where L. D. Tyson defeated H. B. Lindsay, and Montana where Senator Thomas J. Watson probably has won over Frank Linderman.

Assured of Forty-nine Senators.

Regular Republicans seem to be assured of at least forty-nine senators, an exact majority, and probably fifty. In addition there will be four radical Republicans, among them Wisconsin's defeat, bringing the total to fifty-four, as against fifty-one at present. There will probably be forty-one Democrats instead of forty-three as at present, and one Farmer-Labor member instead of two.

Returns from house contests at 3 a. m. showed 234 Republicans, 17 Democrats and probably 2 socialist definitely elected. A majority of 215. There were 35 districts yet to be heard from. Of these it seemed certain that enough Republicans would win to bring the Republican total to 235 or more, which will give sufficient margin to silence the defection of from 12 to 15 La Follette supporters. In the present house there have been 225 Republicans, 207 Democrats, two Farmer-Laborites and one socialist.

Returns were missing on Minnesota districts, but it was expected that two or more Farmer-Labor nominees would be elected.

The La Follette group in the house will be weaker in numerous battles for its position in the balance of power. Representative Schafer (Rep., Wis.), one of the La Follette men, seems to have been defeated by Leo Kryzke, Socialist. Miss Wisconsin's Republican of the La Follette group were re-elected. Other La Follette representatives probably reflected included one Republican from Minnesota and one from North Dakota.

G. O. P. Wins Eastern States.

The Coolidge landslide in the east swept into office Republican nominees in numerous states as Rhode Island, Massachusetts, Delaware, and New Jersey. There were indications that the Republicans had elected senators also in Virginia, Oklahoma, and South Dakota.

Results still were uncertain late at night in Colorado, where two senators were chosen, in Montana, and in New Mexico.

The Republicans were running ahead in Colorado, where the seat have been held by one Republican and one Democrat.

The two Republican victories in Colorado, if followed as likely by early returns, would be among the most important of the election. Senator Phillips (Rep.) was leading Senator Adams (Dem.) for the long term, while Rep. W. M. Meade, Republican nominee, was leading Morris Shafroth, the candidate of the Democrats, for the short term. The La Follette radicals were helping the Democrats.

Gillett Defends David Walsh.

In President Coolidge's home state of Massachusetts Representative Gillett, Republican nominee, won by a handsome majority over Senator Walsh (Dem.).

The Klan fight in Oklahoma seems to be the last of the party returns, to have enabled W. B. Vane, Republican nominee, to defeat Governor George C. J. C. Watson (Dem.) for the seat now held by Senator James (Dem.).

The Indiana fight which has been vacillating since the death of Senator Colt (Rep.) James H. Mackey won easily over Gov. William B. Egan, Democratic nominee.

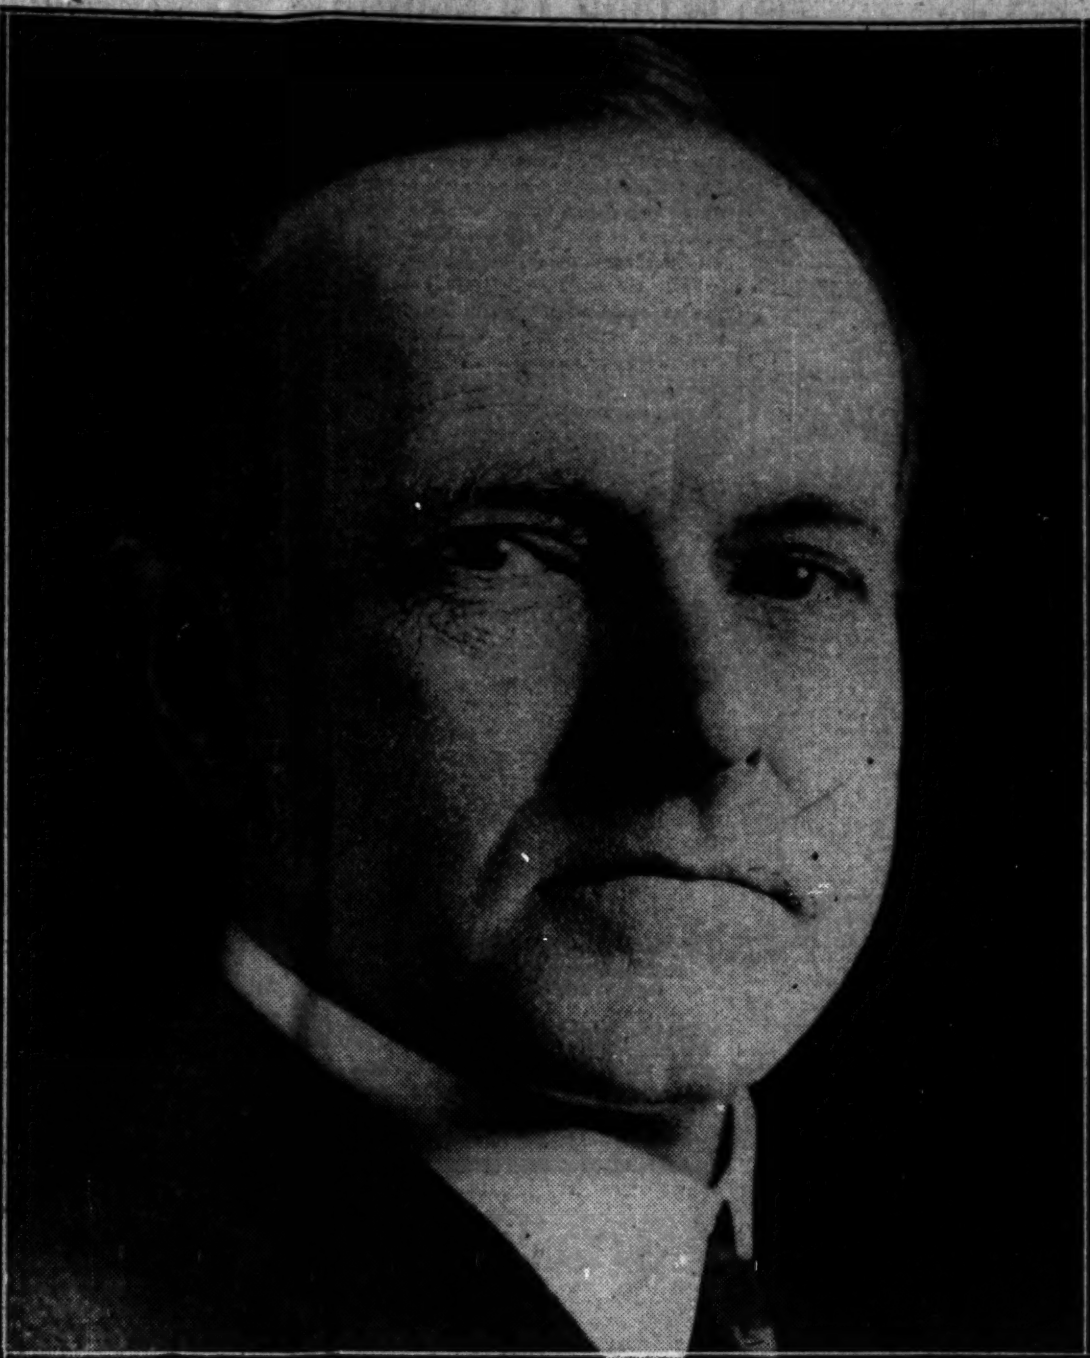

Democrat Replaces Seat.

There has been a possibility of a Republican loss in Delaware, where Senator Hall (Rep.), failed to receive re-election, his former Senator Col. James H. Hall, Democratic candidate, won on the basis of incomplete returns.

In South Dakota Gov. W. H. McGowan, Republican senatorial nominee, appeared to be far enough in the lead over U. S. S. Cherry, Democratic nominee, to insure his election.

There were also Republican and Democratic senatorial nominees whose election had not been considered in detail and who appear to have won by comparative ease. The new Republican senatorial nominee in Illinois, Charles

RE-ELECTED PRESIDENT

Calvin Coolidge was born on the Fourth of July, 1872, in the village of Plymouth, Vt., the son of John C. and Virginia Moor Coolidge. He was descended from John and Mary Coolidge, who settled in Massachusetts in 1630. The family have always been farmers. Calvin graduated from Amherst college in 1895 and was admitted to the bar twenty months later. On Oct. 4, 1905, he was married to Miss Grace Goodhue of Burlington, Vt. In 1906 Mr. Coolidge was elected to the legislature. He was next elected mayor of Northampton, seat of Smith college, and has made that town his home in the intervening years. Next he was elected a state senator, then president of the senate. He was elected lieutenant governor in 1915, re-elected, and in 1918 was elected governor of Massachusetts. It was as governor that Coolidge put down the Boston police strike and gained his first prominence. He was elected Vice President with Harding in 1920, succeeded to the White House a year ago last summer, and now is President-elect.

G. O. P. CAPTURES DELAWARE AND WAY BEHIND CAL IN HOME STATE

Governor.....B. P. ROBINSON
Lieutenant Governor.....J. H. ABERNETHY
Attorney General.....C. A. SOUTHERLAND
Treasurer.....T. S. FOURCARE
Auditor.....J. M. HARRINGTON

Wilmington, Del., Nov. 4.—Coolidge and Daves, on the face of returns from more than one-half the districts, carried Delaware by a substantial plurality. Republican leaders claimed that the entire Republican ticket, including Coleman du Pont for senator and Robert P. Robinson for governor, had been swept to victory.

CKLEY'S CORK JNK BY GORMAN G. O. P. VORTEX

Madden and Kunz Are Congress Winners.

Congressman James R. Buckley, Democrat of the Sixth district, went under with the Coolidge landslide. Former Congressman John J. Gorman was the winner. His plurality, projected on incomplete returns, may reach 22,000.

Gorman was first elected four years ago when Harding carried everything outside of the solid south. Then two years ago Buckley squeezed through with less than 100 votes margin. Now Gorman comes back with an overwhelming majority over his old-time opponent.

Yates and Rathbone Wins.
That is the only change indicated in Congressmen from Chicago. Richard Yates and John Rathbone, congressmen at large, carried Chicago by a vote of approximately two to one and increased that lead in the country towns of Cook county before setting sail for downtown.

Congressman Madden won in the First district by a margin of more than two to one and Morton D. Hull was the winner in the Second district by nearly three to one. In the Third district Spruill did not quite make it two to one. All three of these are Republicans.

Doyle is Re-elected.

In the third district, Congressman Doyle, Democrat, won reelection by a margin of 5 to 1. Congressman Sabath, another Democrat, in the Fifth district, got three votes to his opponent's two. The third Democratic winner was Stanley H. Kunz of the Eighth district.

Then followed two Republicans in the Seventh, Ninth, and Tenth districts. Congressman Michaelson was an easy winner in the Seventh. Congressman Britten carried district nine by nearly four to one and Congressman Chindblom was much better than three to one in the Tenth district.

What Precinct Returns Show.
In the first fifty-nine precincts to report, Congressman Madden had a lead of 16,772.

In the Second district Congressman Hull's lead in the first ninety-two precincts was 17,263.

In the Third district Congressman Spruill's lead in the first fifty-four precincts was 5,241.

In the Fourth district Congressman Doyle's advantage in the first thirty-five precincts was 2,133.

In the Fifth district thirty-six precincts gave Congressman Sabath a lead of 2,536.

In the Sixth district fifty-four precincts show former Congressman Gorman ahead by 3,204.

Ninety-six precincts in the Seventh district show Congressman Michaelson in front by 15,332 votes.

Congressman Britten's edge in the Ninth district was 13,312 votes in the first sixty-seven precincts.

A lead of 11,112 votes was piled up by Congressman Chindblom in the Tenth district's first sixty-six precincts.

Downstate Looks Republican.

A few figures from the Springfield district downstate present the prospect of Republican victory there. J. Earl Mator of Hillsboro, a Democrat, is the present congressman. He has as an opponent Loren W. Wheeler of Springfield, a former congressman.

If Wheeler wins and Gorman captures the Sixth district in Chicago, the Illinois delegation in congress will gain two Republicans. That would make the state's representation twenty-two republicans and five democrats. Three republican congressmen are not candidates for reelection, but the meager returns at hand indicate that they will be succeeded by other Republicans.

Coolidge Beats Joint Vote of Davis and Bob in Utah

Salt Lake City, Utah, Nov. 4.—Reports from throughout Utah up to 12 o'clock tonight indicated that President Coolidge had carried the state and would pile up a total perhaps greater than the combined figures for John W. Davis, Democrat, and Robert La Follette, Independent candidate. The governorship race between Charles R. Mabey (Rep.) and George Dern (Dem.) remains in doubt.

COOLIDGE WILL DROP HARDING'S POLICIES MAR. 4

To Chart Own Way as Captain of Ship U. S.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 4.—[Special.]—President Coolidge next March begins an administration in his own right. He has cut out in the last three months the policies largely of the Harding administration and as such he has hesitated to depart from the program laid down by his predecessor and felt bound to continue in the cabinet he inherited.

According to his advisers he will chart the way as chief navigator in the presidential seas without consulting the course mapped out for the Republican party by the captain who died in the middle of his trip. President Coolidge now feels that he can initiate policies of his own and his advisers say that he will appear in an entirely different light, that he will take command of the party requiring leadership and discipline.

Must Restore Confidence.
Unless the Republican party can fully restore itself in the confidence of the voters of the country which elected a great number of members of congress opposed to its policies and its conservatism, it is apparent to political observers that the bloc system is going to make headway in American politics and eventually lead to the formation of two great parties, representing conservative and progressive policies. In other words, some students of politics see the Republican party standing for conservatism under another name, perhaps, and the Democratic party assuming a protesting progressive attitude as the only way of satisfying the elements which commanded a large vote in the recent election.

Block Sentiment Growing.
There appears to be no group of men in congress able to overcome this rising bloc sentiment. It remains, according to many Republicans, for President Coolidge in the next few years to develop into a leader as was Roosevelt and Wilson, as the only hope of restoring the Republican party to its old time vigor and eliminating the third party group which has grown up in the Republican ranks.

There appear to be only a few important issues of a democratic nature before the country at present. These broadly include reduction in tariff modification of the tariff in certain places where glaring inequalities exist, and the placing of the farmer upon an equality with other producers.

It is accepted that the restrictive immigration law will be a policy of American governments for many years to come, although a commission to study the question thoroughly will probably result from legislation in the coming congress.

World Court Problem.
In the foreign sphere the only pressing question is the international world court. Present indications are that the new congress will adopt a world court proposal as recommended by President Coolidge and his predecessor.

It may be said upon high authority that President Coolidge will devote his attention chiefly to his own problems and will consider association with other nations as worthy of consideration only after more peaceful conditions exist and the budgets of Europe are balanced and the countries facing peaceful problems.

The opinion was expressed by one of Mr. Coolidge's most intimate friends that he was elected because of his record in public life, that he stood high above the Republican party, discredited by the old scandals, and therefore the electorate trusted the President rather than the party.

President to Lead the Way.
Because of these conditions it was said that the President would attempt in his quiet way to build up confidence of the people in the party by taking the lead in many ways. In the fifteen months of his administration, to which he succeeded by the death of President Harding, he has acted as if a custodian. Now he intends to lead the way, it was said by an intimate, and it was predicted by this informant that President Coolidge in the next four years will justify the trust imposed in

TRIBUNE GIVES U. S. ELECTION FIGURES TO FRENCH LEADERS

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.] PARIS, Nov. 5, 5 a. m.—The results of the elections as they were received throughout the night were given to leading figures in French political life by THE TRIBUNE. They were received with uniform satisfaction all along the line.

The extreme left section of today's press, which has been strongly favorable to Robert La Follette all along, shows considerable discontent with President Coolidge's big lead, but the moderate groups of all parties express satisfaction that a known quantity is still in office.

The usual European lack of information on American politics is reflected in today's press, but President Coolidge, as a definite, known quantity, is welcomed in preference to the other candidates, whose policies with regard to the Versailles treaty and Dawes plan the French feared.

him by the voters and in the end put the Republican party back where it belongs. To do this there will be changes in the cabinet and reorganization by the President of new leaders in congress. Since Senator Lodge is in the future, President Coolidge will recognize Senator Gillett, who appears sure of election.

Longworth May Be Speaker.
In the house, Representative Longworth, who is a candidate for speaker, will be recognized by the administration.

The President does not expect to take any vacation after the elections. He will endeavor to attend the Army and Navy football games in Baltimore on the last Saturday in this month and attend the opening of the Live Stock exposition in Chicago. He is scheduled to speak at the opening of the exposition on Nov. 29, but may postpone the speech in order to attend the football game, which falls on the same day.

CO-ED'S CURFEW RULE CALLED OFF ELECTION NIGHT

Madison, Wis., Nov. 4.—Co-eds who are old enough to vote also are old enough to stay up until 12:30 a. m. to hear election returns, Dean of Women P. Louise Nardin decided.

The co-ed curfew is set at 10:30 p. m. on week nights, but it was arranged so that the enfranchised girls at the two hours extra, to enjoy the excitement of election night.

About 300 university students, including co-eds, voted today.

Courier Takes Mrs. Bob's Vote to Madison Polls

Madison, Wis., Nov. 4.—Mrs. Robert M. La Follette, wife of the independent presidential candidate, cast her ballot in today's election through special messenger from Washington, according to members of the family. Mrs. La Follette was unable to return home because of a recent illness.

Davis Leads Coolidge by 5 to 1 Vote in Georgia

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 4.—[Special.]—After three attempts to fold her ballot properly and after the clerk had tried in vain to show her how, a married woman who was trying to cast her first vote flew into a rage today, tore up her ballot, and created such a disturbance generally that she was placed under arrest on a charge of disorderly conduct. She was Mrs. Emily Mosallin, Bensonhurst, mother of three children.

Her husband tried to enter the booth with her to give her instructions, but was told it was against the law. Three times she tried to vote, but failed because she did not fold her ballot properly. Then she tore the ballot to shreds.

Coolidge Beats Harding's Vote in Harding Precinct

Marion, O., Nov. 4.—[By the Associated Press.]—President Coolidge carried the home precinct of the late President, a big majority in today's general election. It was indicated late tonight. Returns from 770 precincts gave Davis 60,773, Coolidge 13,889, and La Follette 5,772.

OHIO FOR CAL BY 500,000, IS G. O. P. ESTIMATE

La Follette Running 3d; Cities May Aid Him.

BULLETIN.
Columbus, O., Nov. 4.—President Coolidge increased his lead in Ohio to 132,000 votes on returns from 2,080 of the approximately 8,450 precincts in the state. Totals: Coolidge, 259,337; Davis, 127,076; La Follette, 82,794.

Columbus, O., Nov. 4.—Republican state headquarters at midnight tonight predicted President Coolidge will carry Ohio by 500,000 on the face of returns from one-fifth of the state's 8,400 precincts, which showed Coolidge leading John W. Davis, Democratic candidate, by 121,000 votes.

La Follette was running third, 65,529 votes behind Davis, but little of the vast urban vote had been tabulated, where the independent progressive standard bearer, it is admitted, will draw most of his strength. The tabulation showed: Coolidge, 231,153; Davis, 110,011; La Follette, 44,482.

Coolidge appeared to be carrying the Republican state ticket below governor into office with him. The governorship race was close, 883 precincts giving Harry L. Davis [Rep.] 68,668, and Gov. Vic Donahey [Dem.] 73,254.

T. E. Dye, chairman of the state Democratic committee, conceded Ohio to Coolidge by "practically as large a majority as was given Harding in 1920."

HUGHES VOTES AND ASKS: "WHO DOUBTS RESULT?"

New York, Nov. 4.—Secretary of State Charles E. Hughes voted this afternoon in the fifteenth assembly district. On leaving the polling place on Madison avenue near 79th street, the secretary said:

"I have nothing to say beyond the fact that the whole country well knows who is to be America's next President. Can there be any doubt as to who that man will be?"

Two, One a Cop, Stabbed at Detroit Polling Place

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 4.—Patrolman Frank Primovich and Emil Ritz were stabbed here this evening in two fights at the same polling place. The wounds were not dangerous. The policeman was stabbed when he attempted to stop a fight between groups supporting rival candidates for mayor. Police reserves quelled the belligerents but after they left trouble broke out again and Ritz was stabbed in the leg.

BOOTLEGGING THE INCOME TAX.

It has been noted that some of the very rich did not seem so very rich in the income tax lists. Naming no names, but there are a number of prominent people in this country who are having more trouble meeting their bills than it was generally thought. At least that is the way it would seem if their taxes indicated their income, the which in many cases they certainly do not.

There is many a rich man who by one means or another has kept out of the high brackets and in many cases he's within the law or an interpretation of the law in doing so.

There are two ideas regarding taxes in this country. One is that they are means of raising money to run the government and pay the national debt. The other is that they are just processes of confiscating the wealthy man's money. The second idea has an important place in the country's opinion.

Democracy has some leveling tendencies. It has a desire to run a lawn mower over the grass and see that no blade shall be taller than another blade, nor different.

We were given one constitutional amendment to permit a leveling of personal habit. That gave us prohibition. We were given another to permit the levying of income taxes. That gave us the idea that the way to level the community was to tax the rich man until his shoes pinched him. What we wanted to see was the non-viviper sitting cross meal munched and the rich man selling shoe strings on the corner.

The big employers of labor were and are for prohibition for labor. It increases efficiency in the machine. The shop goes along without a mass of minor difficulties if the help is sober all the time. One big employer said that the relief from garish notices was one item in his gratitude for prohibition. He did not say whether prohibition had affected him or not, personally. If he likes a bottle of Pompadour with his dinner he probably has it and he may have it legally. All he had to do was to think in advance, buy in sufficient quantity and put it down in a concrete pit with a machine gun guard.

In the industrial centers the proletariat did not want prohibition but it got it. The big employers could not have had their way in this if it had not been for a great mass of the democracy, not in the industrial centers, which did want to run the lawn mower over the habits of their fellow democrats. Out of one urge the citizens who might figure high in the income tax got a chance to do what they wanted to do to their fellow man. Their fellow man, when and as he wanted to, took to the boot-lagger, the home-sit, the home brew, and he made grapes the fortune of California.

Out of the other urge towards leveling down the fellows with money the fellows without much of it got or thought they had a crack at the gilded citizenship. The gilded citizenship had its tax boot-lagger. There were ways out.

A prohibition law can be slapped on people without getting prohibition. A confiscatory tax can be slapped on other people without getting confiscation. The people do not submit. They wiggle out or struggle out or think their way out.

The prohibition law legalizes stores of liquor collected before prohibition came in. The wealthy availed themselves of that. People who had no wealth availed themselves of other methods. The tax law legalizes certain methods of evasion. The wealthy avail themselves of that. Some of the ways approximate bootlegging but they are available.

A citizen who finds it possible to pay 52 per cent of his earnings to the government will naturally seek means of finding it possible to not pay it. Many of them have succeeded in doing so and probably in most cases the treasury department interpreters of the law would be forced to admit, or will willingly admit, that the law has not been broken. This is pre-war stuff or medicinal liquor. It has an aspect of legality or the full flavor of such but it is getting around the barn just the same.

Human nature will carry a burden so far and then drop it. There is a point of overstrain. Then laws do not avail. There is generally a way out. The law which tries to confiscate a man's property by indirect means or regulate his personal habits by direct means will yield to the desire of the man to escape what he regards as an imposition or an unjust exaction.

Much of the gilded citizenship has beaten the income tax law. It is paying heavy taxes but it has escaped working for the government exclusively. It has escaped confiscation just as the working man who was headed into prohibition has escaped prohibition. Any one who wants to be a thorough-going dry can be one. Any one who wants to do so cannot be one. The last penny may do so. Some have. Some will not. Public opinion has not been outraged. Only professional dry cry at the breakdown of the Volstead act. Only professional radicals are wroth at the failure of tax confiscation.

The American sense of humor has a day in the sun.

We smile at the pharisee who bootlegs his income tax and gives 5 per cent of the savings to the Anti-Saloon league to uphold respect for law—and buy an indulgence.

RECOGNIZING MOSCOW: WE DO. THAT'S WHY WE DON'T.

M. Rykov, one of the heads of the Moscow government, remarks that now that all the other great powers except Japan have resumed diplomatic relations with soviet Russia, it is scarcely possible the United States will be able to maintain its attitude toward the Moscow government.

We think M. Rykov is mistaken, and he is mistaken because he does not place our refusal to recognize the bolshevik dictatorship on the right grounds. He says "the seven years' existence of the soviet regime, its unceasing growth, its trade and economic expansion must be sufficient argument even for the irreconcilable United States."

They have not been sufficient and we think they will not be. We think M. Rykov's description of the soviet regime's success comes from his imagination rather than the facts, but even if it were accurate it would not reach our policy. That is not based on any lack of power in the red dictatorship. We recognize its power. It is based on the fact that the bolshevik morality makes it impossible to rely upon any engagement of the soviet government because the bolshevik does not recognize that good faith with a "capitalist" government is other than an affair of pure expediency.

Our policy is also based on the very practical consideration that to resume diplomatic relations with the soviet government is to permit the officials of the Communist Internationale to introduce revolutionary agents throughout the country in the guise of diplomatic and consular agents of the Moscow government. No pledge by Moscow to abstain from propaganda would be worth the paper it might be written on.

It is impossible, it seems to us, to deal self-respectfully with the bolshevik regime. Take a recent specimen of its sense of fair play, the soviet foreign minister Tchitcherine's article in the Ere Nouvelle of Paris, a paper close to Premier Herriot. In that article Tchitcherine has the insolence to charge former Premier Poincare and his government with being little interested in the recognition of that part of the czarist debt held by workmen and small merchants, but greatly concerned for the debt owed to the great industrialists and bankers. And Tchitcherine promises payment only to the "small owners."

This is an advance upon complete repudiation on the convenient theory that the loans of billions of French capital to czarist Russia are not binding upon revolutionary Russia, but the article in the Ere Nouvelle is a clear case of international class propaganda for French internal disturbance and its publication in a journal approved by Herriot, we should think, would raise resentment among self-respecting Frenchmen not only against the mischief making foreigners but also against their own complacent premier.

At any rate, the incident shows that it is impossible as yet to count on decent treatment from Moscow. Doubtless France and the other powers which have recognized the soviet government have substantial reasons for putting up with its bad manners and bad faith. We do not think America has any such reasons. We may acquire them later. We might pick up some business in Russia through the presumption of relations, but we don't think it would pay us in offset to the mischief making which Russian emissaries could and would carry on under the protection of a diplomatic status.

We confess also to a factor of sentiment in our approval of our policy toward Moscow. The dictatorship wants our recognition not only for material advantages it may gain thereby but for prestige. And if there is any regime in history to which we would be less willing to lend prestige, it is that of the bloody handed and destructive bigots who have controlled Russian affairs since the fall of Kerensky. The communists of Russia and of the world will rejoice when the American republic salutes the dictatorship of the proletariat. They will use it as evidence that we bow to their power, condone their crimes, and advance toward acceptance of their doctrines. We see nothing to be gained by the American people through intercourse with Moscow, up to this time at any rate, which could compensate us morally or materially for giving aid of this value to the communist regime.

TOO MANY GRADE CROSSINGS.

The tragedy at North avenue ought to remind the city that the elevation of tracks needs to be pressed with more vigor. All railroad crossings of streets in the city limits are supposed to be elevated, and while there is no disposition to demand unreasonable expedition from the railroads, that disposition should not be taken advantage of by either the railroads or city officials. Inertia in public business is the most powerful, persistent factor and public interests, even safety of life or limb, are only intermittently enforced. Track elevation, we hope, is in for some needed attention. There remain far too many grade crossings, and the danger is enormously enhanced by the growth of automobile traffic.

Editorial of the Day

A BANKING TREND.

(Buffalo Express.)

Canadian banking, which served as a model in some respects for the federal reserve system in this country, has developed toward greater centralization. That is a feature which was not copied in this country, but a tendency of big city banks to absorb smaller institutions on the outskirts has been noticeable in recent years. There is a strong group here which deplores such a movement, but it is likely to continue to a greater or less extent.

Consolidation has been conspicuous in England since the war and virtually all banks have branches. One institution has branches running into the thousands. In Canada at the end of 1922 there were eighteen chartered banks. When two projected mergers are effected some time next year, there will be only twelve.

The latest Canadian merger is that of the Bank of Montreal and the Moisons. The latter is the only remaining so-called family bank. It was established seventy years ago by the Moison family and its present board of directors includes two members of that family. It is said to be a sound bank, although one of the smaller institutions. The Bank of Montreal is the strongest in the Dominion. After the latest absorption its total assets will be about $750,000,000.

POLITENESS WASTED.

Some people are literal. A broad shouldered individual, obviously a country squire, entered a well known hatters in Piccadilly.

An immaculate assistant approached him and said, "sir, what is your pleasure, sir?"

The country squire pondered a moment and then made reply: "Fox hunting chisly. But what I want now is a hat."—London Tit-Bits.

TRAINING THE CHILD.

LAST week the legislature of Colorado considered a bill which called for the compulsory education of the parents. The bulletin of the Federation for Child Study from which I got this information did not say what happened to the proposed law.

The main lines in which parents were to be educated were:

1. Knowledge of physical defects; their effects on child behavior and health.
2. Knowledge of parental discipline; its use in the wise management of children in the home.
3. Knowledge of the effects of fatigue and the need for rest in childhood and adolescence.
4. Knowledge of the effects of malnutrition and the needs of proper nutrition for children.
5. Knowledge of hygiene, including training in sex hygiene.
6. Knowledge of such matters as may thereafter be shown to require important bearing upon the health and behavior of our generations.

The same bulletin says the home economics department of the University of Minnesota requires of seniors a course in child psychology, with especial reference to the training of children in the home. This movement has spread to other universities. The bulletin says the course is being extended to classes of prospective fathers.

How can a sane parent be expected to know the American Association of University Women recommended: "It might well be the function of the college to give young women a much more adequate background than they now possess for motherhood."

The type of questions studied by the mothers who belong to the Federation of Child Study are:

1. Infancy and its discipline; obedience; punishment; imagination; truth and falsehood; pity and fear.
2. In all probability they also study such other questions as physical defects, callous, undernourishment, overgrowth, contagion, tonsils, common colds, stuttering and stammering, and trachoma.

TOO MANY GRADE CROSSINGS.
The tragedy at North avenue ought to remind the city that the elevation of tracks needs to be pressed with more vigor. All railroad crossings of streets in the city limits are supposed to be elevated, and while there is no disposition to demand unreasonable expedition from the railroads, that disposition should not be taken advantage of by either the railroads or city officials. Inertia in public business is the most powerful, persistent factor and public interests, even safety of life or limb, are only intermittently enforced. Track elevation, we hope, is in for some needed attention. There remain far too many grade crossings, and the danger is enormously enhanced by the growth of automobile traffic.

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

60 YEARS AGO TODAY

INDIANAPOLIS.—Horace Hoffman, deputy grand commander of the Sons of Liberty in Indiana, turned state's evidence in the trial here for participation in a treasonable plot and made startling disclosures concerning the schemes of the order. He said that nobody except Democrats had ever been in the order. He testified that a "committee of thirteen" had appointed a man to kill Gov. Morton and that $200,000 had been given by rebel agents to Dodd and Walker, state agents of the order, to purchase arms for an armed revolt.

LOUISVILLE.—Sue Munday's gang of cutthroat guerrillas surrounded the home of a Mr. Harper, a Union man, and murdered him in the most cowardly and brutal manner. It does seem that Sue's heart is wholly corrupted and her nature fends for her red robes in acts of cold blood and every species of crimes. Gen. Burbridge sent four guerrilla prisoners in charge of a file of soldiers to the Harper home and had them sent to death in retaliation for the killing of Mr. Harper.

NEW YORK.—The Richmond Sentinel, Jeff Davis' official organ, has an article urging that the Negro slaves be compelled to fight in the rebel army.

NEW YORK.—The Herald's Paris letter says Alexander Dumas is coming to the United States to write a book on American affairs.

CHICAGO.—Clark Cornwall of Chicago and Miss Clara E. Taylor of Aurora were married at the home of the bride's mother.

25 YEARS AGO TODAY

COLENSO, Natal.—The Boers commenced shelling Colenso on the 2d, directing their fire against Fort Wylie, which defends Tugela bridge.

LONDON.—The war office issued a bulletin that Colenso has been evacuated by the Boers, who then concentrated farther south. Women and children from Ladysmith are arriving at Pietermaritzburg. This can only mean that Gen. Buller has surrendered or is completely surrounded. Rumors of

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

IT'S CAL, IT'S CAL, IT'S CAL. From Greenland's icy mountain to India's coral strand everything has gone to Cal. It's a tidal wave, a catastrophe. New York, Illinois, Iowa—it's something awful. We are waiting for Texas and Alabama to swing into line and make it unanimous. And yet for months Bob Bobcat raged like a mountain lion and John Davis protested to high heaven. And Silent Cal only grew sadder and sadder. In silence glowed. We'll tell the pop-eyed world it is! Three cheers for Cal! Now then, rooster, do your stuff!

FROM MAINE TO OREGON TRIBUNE RADIOCASTS VOTE

"How's Andy Running?"

Anxious Public Asks.

An innumerable audience heard the Tribune broadcast, the returns last night. Telegrams received from Montana and Texas, Maine and Oregon, indicate the vast area in which the bulletins sent via Stations W-G-N and WLS from the Tribune office were received.

It was 5:47 when "Sen." Kane of W-G-N matched the first bulletin from the telegraph operator and announced:

"Well, folks, here we are with the first news of the national election. Let's go."

The first bulletin, from Kansas, showed Coolidge leading by 2 to 1 in the first thirty precincts recorded. After that came in a flood. W-G-N broadcast the bulletins until 11 o'clock, when George Hay, the "old-time old judge" of WLS, took up the burden. The stations alternated. W-G-N taking the even hours and WLS the odd ones.

Radio Fans Critical.

Radio fans know what they want. Hardly had the announcers started when complaints began to arrive by telephone that reception was not clear and the announcers were talking too rapidly. The returns thereafter were given much more slowly, and the complaints on that score ceased.

It was discovered a slight defect in one of the transformers was causing the indistinctness in transmission. This was quickly corrected by throwing in a new transformer. After that messages of congratulation poured in. The telegraph instruments could be clearly heard over W-G-N as they plattered the news into the Tribune office. W-G-N's microphone was placed at one end of a busy room. WLS was in an adjoining room, glass screened, which was virtually sound-proof.

They're Curious About Andy.

One strange circumstance was noted. Between 8:15 and 9:45 no less than twenty-seven requests were received from widely scattered communities for a report on the standing of Andy Gump. Why these requests all came together is a question for psychologists. The announcers satisfied what appeared to be a genuine craving for information about Gump by reading the "bulletins" in the cartoon which appears in this morning's paper to their thousands of listeners.

SIM TUCKHORN, "BRIGHT LIGHTS" FIGURE, DEAD

Simon Tuckhorn, 57, who in years gone by was noted as a café owner, died of pneumonia yesterday in St. Elizabeth's hospital. Most of his life was spent in Chicago. Tuckhorn's "Skidoo Inn," 24 Quincy street, was one of the "bright spots" in the downtown district. Another all night café conducted by "Sim" Tuckhorn was the Olympia, Hubbard court and Wabash avenue. Funeral arrangements have not been announced.

Elmer Hears Ether Shout

Cal's Victory

Air Full of Story of "Mr. Chaos" Defeat!

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

That was something different, quite different. The election is all over but the shouting, but at this 11 o'clock hour there is sure a lot of talking still going on all over the dial within my set—and without.

One would imagine this was a branch government printing office and a twin radio broadcasting studio.

A moment ago, in our Sunday room, I was watching "Sen" Kane at the microphone, his right hand on top of an aching head, and the other hand manipulating a never ending flow of election bulletins. At the other end of the room was an extra group of telegraph instruments. How the telegraph and typewriter ticking is kept out of the W-G-N microphone is a mystery to me.

In an adjoining room sits Announcer George Hay, the solemn young "Judge" of WLS. Mr. Hay read his election bulletins through a pair of dark rimmed glasses, and with one hat on his own head, and another hat, for some unknown reason, perched upon his microphone.

Telegraph instruments and typewriters seem to have encamped in the stately Crystal room of WEBB studio. Audible evidence confirmed Announcer Bonile's statement of this. Musical numbers were interspersed with the election bulletins at that station. At 5:10 Announcer Bonile added a touch of color by stating, "The crowd in the dining room seems to have gone crazy over the Coolidge victory." The ringing of cowbells, and other wild noises confirmed this also.

WMAQ also varied its election bulletins with musical selections. At 9:30 I received a surprised from that station. A woman with a voice like Miss Waller of that station was found reading election returns. Wonder if Announcer Whitney's voice gave out!

Musical selections were given with the KYW bulletins.

Curiosity led me to go out of the city occasionally during the evening. WHAS, Louisville, Ky., and KPCK, Hastings, Neb., at 7:40 were found reading election telegrams.

But the most interesting station was WJBR, Buffalo, which was hooked up with and broadcasting from WEAF, New York. Some of the telegrams read by Announcer Graham McNamee were heard later at one or more of our Chicago stations. Wendell Hall, from WEAF, was heard to make the remark that he had heard that "It Ain't Goin' to Rain No More" in Washington.

Now I'm going to see that Announcer "Sen" Kane and George Hay have plenty of sandwiches and hot coffee!

GET BACK LOS LOST WATCHES.

One hundred and sixty-three sample eight watches, each valued at from $50 to $1,000, were returned yesterday to Henry Freund, a New York salesman stopping at the Congress hotel by the Yellow Taxi cab company. He left them in a cab.

DAWES COOL AS CAL COOLIDGE OVER TRIUMPH

Returns 'Look All Right,' General Says.

BY DONALD EWING.

"Well, how does it look, Charley?" "O, I guess it's all right."

And that is just about as far as Charles G. Dawes would go in commenting on his election as Vice President of the United States, when the more than 100 neighbors who gathered at his home in Evanston last night tried to get something in the way of an expression.

The general did laugh a bit when Walter Wilson, an old friend, described the plurality as "simply vulgar." Once when the returns from Wisconsin were showing the Republican ticket making a surprising showing on La Follette's own street corner, he admitted it was "rather interesting."

Gates Returns from W-G-N. In the Dawes family there had never, of course, been any worry as to the result, and most of the interest in the returns, received by radio through the Waukegan station, W-G-N, and by special Associated Press wire, were centered in certain doubtful states and in the popular vote being given La Follette. There seemed to be quite a feeling of pleasure at the fact that La Follette was running unexpectedly far behind Davis in most states.

But, while Mr. Dawes was following the President's lead in issuing no formal statement and though he spent most of the evening quietly puffing his underslung pipe, it was plain that he was intensely interested. Once he left the dinner table to go to a look at the first returns, then just coming in, and through the evening he went back and forth between the radio in his living room and the telephone wire in his office.

Mr. Dawes seemed to get a great deal of pleasure out of the indications of a tremendous total vote throughout the country and was particularly pleased that in his own precinct only three of the total registration failed to go to the polls. One was a 90 year old bedridden gentleman, Mrs. Dawes explained as just a bit upset that three voters in her husband's precinct had failed to vote a ballot. Out of 578 registered 533 voted for Coolidge and Dawes, 54 for Davis, and 23 for La Follette.

Children Show Delight. While the general and his wife were reclining, there were three persons who decidedly were not. One was Gordon Ewen, 9 year old son of a neighbor, and the other two were the general's children, Dana and Virginia. Virginia wanted the election returns a bit early and tried to entertain Gordon by drawing pictures on the blackboard in the office, but Gordon had work of his own to do. First, he decorated all the guests with Coolidge and Dawes buttons, and then he sat down at a typewriter to grind out a "campaign speech," though the campaign is over.

Calls La Follette Worst. "Of all the candidates La Follette is the worst," 9 year old Gordon began. "Because he wants to tear down the constitution and if he does that he will have all kinds of trouble and then where will we be?" Gordon has been following the general's campaign speeches closely and practiced many of them at home, righting up a speaker's stand with water glass and everything.

Gordon spent the whole day with the Dawes and refused to heed any such things as bed hours. He went with Gen. and Mrs. Dawes to the polls and seemed a little disappointed that he couldn't cast a ballot. Brig. Gen. Dawes marked his quickly with a pencil taken from his own pocket, the work taking only one minute and ten seconds. Mrs. Dawes took thirty seconds longer, but explained that she had thought it all out in advance "because Charley wouldn't give me any advice at all."

Talks of Alreadies. The general then returned home and, reclining in an easy chair in front of a wood blaze in his open fireplace, discussed at some length with Gordon the merits of Alreadies and other dogs. All efforts of visitors to draw him into discussion of politics failed.

The first word of congratulatory received came from his old town of Marietta, O., a telegram from a friend there explaining that a great crowd was in front of the local newspaper office "cheering for Charley."

Henry Dawes, the general's brother, Mrs. Henry Dawes, and Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Richards were guests for dinner. Mrs. Richards is a cousin of the candidate, but he had never seen her before. She has been in relief work in Persia for some time and got here just in time to wish him success as Vice President.

Many bouquets of flowers were received at the home during the evening, and neighbors came in a steady stream.

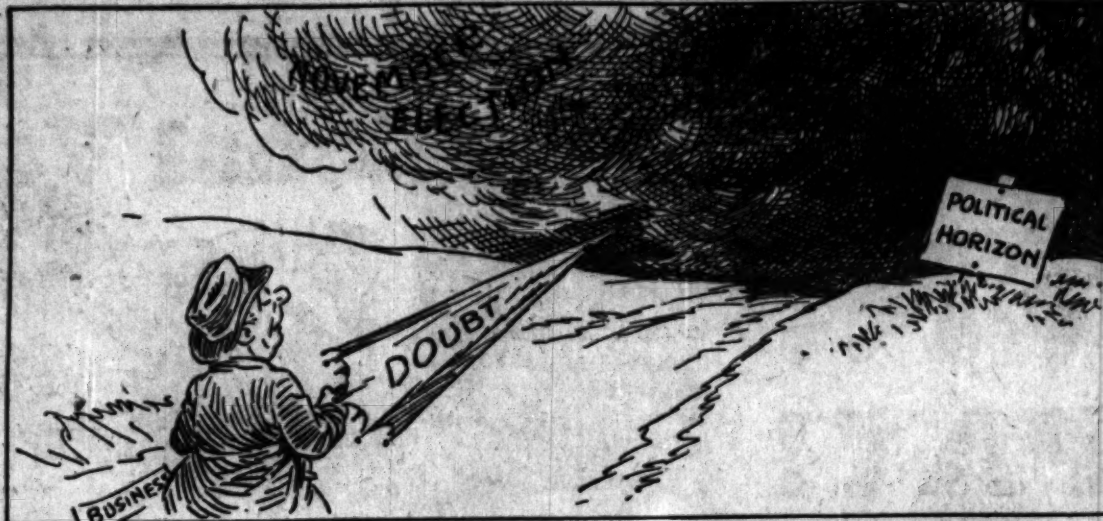

Blind Woman, 89, Ill for 30 Years, Casts First Vote. Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 4.—Totally blind, 89 years old, and an invalid for thirty years, Mrs. Martha T. Wallace today voted for the first time in her life, aided by her brother, Judge Eli Torrance, former commander in chief of the G. A. R.

Rest of State Ticket Insecure. While Gov. Smith was elected by a safe margin, there was considerable uncertainty as to the fate of the rest of the state Democratic ticket. Least Gov. George B. Lunn appeared to be safe, although he ran fully 50,000 votes behind the governor. The governor's triumph was marred somewhat by the Republican gains in the legislature. It was admitted by the Democrats that the Republicans elected enough state senators to take control of that body away from the Democrats and materially increased their majority in the assembly.

Roosevelt Recedes Fast. Coolidge's victory in Greater New York was obtained through his ability to run neck and neck with Davis in Manhattan, to roll up 70,000 plurality in Brooklyn, and to get smaller leads in the other boroughs.

NEW YORK IS FOR AL BY 160,000; CAL BY 900,000

Governor Overcomes Lead of Rival Upstate.

governor in the entire state was Smith, 1,201,253; Roosevelt, 1,178,839. President Coolidge polled approximately 1,550,111 votes in the entire state.

Roosevelt Admits Defeat.

Although it was a see-saw race early in the evening, with early returns indicating that Col. Roosevelt was piling up a tremendous majority upstate, when the returns from the Tammany strongholds in the greater city began to be heard from it was a different story. The governor's estimated plurality of 225,000 in the five boroughs completely offset his opponent's upstate lead.

Col. Roosevelt conceded the election of Gov. Smith and congratulated him in a statement issued at his Oyster Bay home.

"I am delighted that President Coolidge has been re-elected," he said. "That is all important for the country. The returns from the Republican state committee headquarters indicate Gov. Smith has been elected. I extend him my congratulations."

Rest of State Ticket Insecure.

While Gov. Smith was elected by a safe margin, there was considerable uncertainty as to the fate of the rest of the state Democratic ticket. Least Gov. George B. Lunn appeared to be safe, although he ran fully 50,000 votes behind the governor. The governor's triumph was marred somewhat by the Republican gains in the legislature. It was admitted by the Democrats that the Republicans elected enough state senators to take control of that body away from the Democrats and materially increased their majority in the assembly.

Roosevelt Recedes Fast. Coolidge's victory in Greater New York was obtained through his ability to run neck and neck with Davis in Manhattan, to roll up 70,000 plurality in Brooklyn, and to get smaller leads in the other boroughs.

Roosevelt ran behind the President wherever votes were cast. Up state Roosevelt carried Buffalo, Poughkeepsie, Binghamton, Newburgh, and other centers, as well as sweeping the rocky ribbed Republican rural communities, but in New York City he ran at a dead loss. The liquor question appeared to figure somewhat in the result, and helped Al Smith. Roosevelt had embraced the dry cause of the anti-saloon league.

La Follette's part in the campaign proved of less consequence than his local backers expected. Many Progressives who voted for the Wisconsin senator also went to Smith, so that the net result was every element helped Smith and Tammany. La Follette's popular vote in the state ranged around a half million. He ran well in Schenectady and other industrial centers, but his influence had little effect upon the general outcome.

Prisoners Given Chance to Cast Their Ballots.

Minot, N. D., Nov. 4.—Prisoners serving sentences in the Ward county jail for misdemeanors were given the privilege today by Sheriff A. S. Spicher of casting their votes in the election. Some of the prisoners were released in custody to go to the polls, while others, who are treated as trustees, were accompanied to the polls by an officer.

Mercury Hits 96 Deg. at Yuma, Ariz.—a Record.

Yuma, Ariz., Nov. 4.—Yuma yesterday experienced its hottest November day since the establishment of the local weather bureau fifty-four years ago. The thermometer registered 96 degrees at 2 p. m.

Father Beats Man Who Offends Girl 11 Years Old.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 4.—C. G. Brophy, 39, of 845 South Scoville avenue, Oak Park, married and the father of a 4 year old girl, was beaten publicly yesterday when a 11 year old girl told her father Brophy had offended her. Brophy lost three upper teeth before the police saved him. Margery Kline of 723 Cuyler avenue was the child who pointed out Brophy to her father, M. G. Kline, who administered the beating.

2 Killed, 1 May Die in Tennessee Polls Shooting.

Lexington, Tenn., Nov. 4.—G. W. Bartholomew, 70, and his son, J. L. Bartholomew, 40, were shot and killed this morning at the Sixth district polls in this county. The shooting is said to have been done by Dan C. Powers, defeated candidate for magistrate in the August election. W. W. Rogers, school teacher and former trustee, was shot in the head. Reports indicate he will die.

Constipation makes bright children dull—give them relief with Kellogg's Bran.

Constipation dulls the youthful mind—makes children backward in their studies—makes them listless—and can lead to serious diseases. Constipation is a dangerous disease.

You cannot afford to take chances in getting relief. You cannot afford to experiment or put off. Kellogg's Bran brings relief—permanent relief if eaten regularly. Even in the most chronic cases of constipation it is guaranteed to bring results. If it fails, your grocer will return your money.

Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, has brought relief to thousands because it is ALL bran. Remember, only ALL bran can be 100 per cent effective. That is why Kellogg's Bran is recommended by doctors. It sweeps, cleans and purifies the intestine. It causes regular, healthy, normal action. For it works as nature works. It is ALL bran.

Have your children eat it regularly—two tablespoonsful daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. Eat it with milk or cream. Sprinkle it over other cereals. Cook it with hot cereals. Try it in the wonderful recipes on every package.

The flavor is delicious—a crisp, nutlike taste that delights the palate. Different by far from ordinary bran, which are unpalatable.

Begin serving Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, to your children today. Eat it yourself. The leading hotels and clubs serve it. Made in Battle Creek. It is sold by all grocers.

Kellogg Company, Battle Creek, Mich.

BAD BREATH

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove It.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work.

People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

All the benefits of many, sickening, griping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without griping, pain or any disagreeable effects.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.

Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 10c and 30c.

C.O.P. AVALANCHE SWEEPS 4 WOMEN INTO ASSEMBLY

Goode, Elrod, O'Neill and Bohrer Added to Roll.

BY MAUREEN McKERNAN.

Four women were carried into the state legislature on the crest of the C.O.P. avalanche yesterday, returns showed last night.

Three of the women, however, Mrs. Katherine H. Goode, Mrs. Rena Elrod and Mrs. Lottie Holman O'Neill, needed Republican aid votes. They won their battles in the spring primaries and had an easy campaign without opposition.

Harder Battle Downstate.

A little harder was the fight waged in McLean county by Florence Pifer, Republican, for a seat in the state senate, against her opponent, George E. Dooley. Her own popularity, aided by the Republican avalanche, made a state senator of the daughter of former Gov. Pifer, returns show. Exact figures are not yet at hand.

Mary Ward Hart of Benton, Democratic candidate for congressman at large, while carrying strong feminine support, was lost in the flood of Republican votes which elected Richard Tate, former governor of Illinois, and Henry R. Rathbone, Republican.

Ahead of Running Mate.

In Cook county Mrs. Hart polled only about half as many votes as Mr. Tate, but ran ahead of her Democratic running mate, Allen D. Albert, and was not far behind the second man on the Republican list, Henry T. Rathbone.

Jean P. Washburn of Evanston, a Democratic candidate for county commissioner, suffered the common Democratic fate. With the returns still incomplete there was no sign of hope that Mrs. Washburn could win.

EXILED SENATORS CAN'T CAST VOTE IN RHODE ISLAND

Rhode Island, Nov. 4.—With radio and a special telegraph wire bringing in the results of the national election, twenty of the twenty-two Republican senators of Rhode Island tonight were watching the tabulations in which their votes were missing.

Senator Harry A. Sanderson, who remained to question a quorum in the senate chamber when the others went into their "Rhode Island" "cells," and Senator Henry A. Evers, who returned to his home in Cranston some weeks ago after deciding not to run for reelection, were the only ones to vote today. The laws of the state do not permit absentee voting.

The senators were joined here today by many of their families, after the latter cast their ballots in Rhode Island. Although only scattering returns had been brought in, Senator Arthur A. Sherman of Portsmouth, leader of the Republicans, expressed confidence in the final result.

Wood Gives Reception for Philippine Legislators

MANILA, Nov. 4.—(By the Associated Press).—Governor General and Mrs. Leonard Wood held a reception today in honor of the Philippine legislature. Virtually every member of the legislature was present, as well as nearly all the army and navy officials in the Philippines and many other residents of Manila.

MARYLAND WON BY COOLIDGE; BOB FIGHTS WELL

Congressman Hill Re-elected.

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 4.—With 228 of Maryland's 1,122 precincts outstanding, President Coolidge had a lead of 6,294 over Davis. The vote was Coolidge, 115,103; Davis, 108,814; La Follette, 14,798. The missing precincts are widely scattered, only seven counties being complete.

Returns from 519 of 596 precincts in Baltimore show: Coolidge, 26,881; Davis, 24,823; La Follette, 23,188.

The four incumbent representatives were re-elected—Hill (Rep.) and Linthicum, Tydings and Goldsborough (Dem.). In the fifth contest is in doubt between Mudd (Rep.) and Gambrill (Dem.). In the sixth, Zihlman (Rep.) led his Democratic opponent 2,250 with 92 precincts out of 175 reported.

Children Elect Sec. Davis

Mayor of Mooseheart

Mooseheart, Ill., Nov. 4.—Secretary of Labor James J. Davis was elected mayor of Mooseheart today, more than 1,200 children voting. Mr. Davis, founder of the Moose children's city, is the first to be honored with election to the office.

This Family Casts 12 Votes for "Radicals" in Iowa

Council Bluffs, Ia., Nov. 4.—Mustering twelve votes, the Peter Baldauf family living near here, marched to the county voting place and cast a solid delegation for La Follette and Brookhart.

CARSON PIRIE SCOTT & Co

Frocks of Satin Crepe for Misses, $50

Among the Most Unusual Values Noted in Some Time

In this smart frock of satin Canton crepe the tunic proves its adaptability to tailored fashions. And as it is a frock which is suited to most daytime occasions it is a very worth-while selection indeed, at this moderate pricing.

Dull and satin sides of the fabric are combined in the long tunic blouse with white Georgette crepe collar and cuffs. A long slip of the satin crepe is foundation. In black and rust shades. Sketched at the right center. $50.

Women's Very Smart Tunic Frocks of Bengaline, $85

Misses' Dinner Frocks of Satin Crepe at $50

The simplicity of this black dinner frock in supple satin crepe, sketched at the right, is all the more effective for the glinting sash of metal cloth of gold and the striking motif in metallic embroidery. For misses, $50.

A circular tunic gives a new line to the frock for women sketched at the left. With a bright touch of color in the bands that simulate an under-slip. In black with king's blue or white. Brown with tan. $85.

Women's Bengaline Frocks in Navy Blue and Black

With King's Blue or with Fuchsia, $125

An under-slip in king's blue or fuchsia with black or in fuchsia with navy blue in this frock, which is a copy of a frock from abroad. The pocket and long tasseled tie are distinctive fashion details. At the left center. $125.

Fourth Floor, North and South.

Infants' Creepers of Fine Fabrics

Very Specially Priced at $1.50 and $1.95

Crisp and new, just received—such well made little garments will give very satisfactory service.

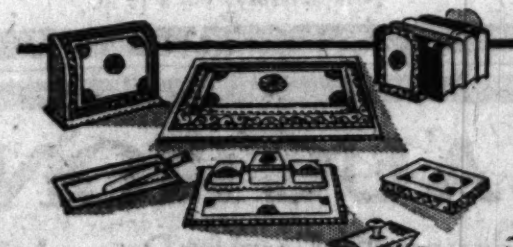

The style sketched at the right is of cotton broadcloth in white and pongee color. It is attractively and elaborately hand-embroidered. $1.95.

The other creepers sketched at the left in white and colors. $1.50. Both excellent values.

Dainty Frocks for "Two-to-Six" Are Priced $2.95 to $8.95

There are many styles to choose. The two styles sketched are priced at $4.75. The smocking and embroidery are done by hand. The one at the right center is of English broadcloth. The other, at the left center, also of a fine fabric, is embroidered in bright colors. Sizes 2 to 6 years.

Third Floor, North.

Articles in Tooled Leather

From Foreign Workshops

A charming collection just arrived, which may happily be the source of early Christmas gift choice. In these groups

Included, also, are covers for telephone directories priced at $8.50. Groups are uncommonly complete, so that selection will be of real advantage at this time.

Fifth Floor, North.

Hand-Bags

In a Group Of Unusual Interest

SMART tailored-looking bags of pin seal and patent leather or the softer, more "dress-up" bags of silks are among these.

One may choose for any need from this new grouping and be sure of an excellent bag at a very moderate price.

At $5

These hand-bags may be had in colors and in black, or often in colors combined. The bags have either moire or leather linings. A varied collection at $5 each.

First Floor, North.

To aid in planning a journey or a winter vacation. This service will take charge of many irksome details, such as the making of reservations and planning itineraries. This service is given without charge.

Ninth Floor, North.

Negligees

Of Lustrous Silky Fabrics

$13.75

Negligees, graceful in line, in iridescent colors, which give to them a brilliance and beauty of tone.

The Negligee, Sketched, with Bands of Puffing

These are most effective trimming. The coloring is especially lovely in this shimmering fabric.

Negligees with Wee Ruffles

Very dainty in style. In jewel-like colors, light and dark, including black and Marine blue. $13.75.

Third Floor, North.

Sueded Fabric Gloves

With Decorated Cuffs

At $1.25

EXCEPTIONAL values these are. These gloves have the flare cuffs trimmed with motifs stitched in black or turned back cuffs with simple stitching. Colors, too, are those now in favor—the tans and browns as well as shades of gray. Very specially priced, $1.25 pair.

First Floor, North.

Crepe de Chine Night-Dresses

Many and Different Styles, $6.95

New groups just received make it possible to supply every need, it would seem. In these night-dresses finely patterned laces and a motif of real fillet form a deep yoke. In exquisite pastel tints. At center. $6.95.

Chemises and Step-in Drawers, $5.95 Each

These may be chosen in sets. They are made of crepe de Chine in a splendid quality and Valenciennes patterned lace with Irish lace are garniture. In pastel tints. Sketched at the left. $5.95 each garment.

Silken Envelope Chemises Trimmed with Laces, in Pastel Tints. At right, $5.95.

Third Floor, North.

The New Hats Ready to Trim

Are of Satin and Metallic Fabrics, $8.75 to $10.75

In these hats is introduced the newer trend of millinery mode just as surely as in hats already trimmed.

So women who take particular pleasure in selecting and placing their own trimmings will find much of new interest in these hats.

Many Little Decorative Touches Are Noted in These Hats

There are rows of cordings, braids, often facings of metal cloth in the satin hats, and one notes taffetas and satin used together in others. The hats of metal fabrics are mostly of the close-fitting type, often with velvet or lace flares. But two styles are sketched. Priced according to kind, $8.75 to $10.75.

Fifth Floor, South.

Oriental Rugs in the Smaller Sizes

Are Priced According to Size and Kind

From $6.75 to $59

The wide range in prices indicates not only how great is the variety in these Oriental rugs but that rugs of real worth may be chosen at these very moderate prices.

Anatolian Mats at $6.75

There is but a limited number of these very desirable small rugs.

Bokara Squares, $16.50

Heavy in texture, with a long, lustrous pile, rich in colorings. These very attractive rugs average 3 x 3 feet in size.

Persian Hall Strips, $59

A variety of designs in these. Many have the old natural colorings. Excellent choice for bedrooms and halls. Approximately 3 feet by 10 to 11 feet.

Seventh Floor, North.

Fine Namasis Rugs at $45

The old blue and rose colorings predominate in these. Their richness enhanced by the silky texture of the rugs. Approximate size 2 1/2 x 4 feet.

ILLINOIS G. O. P. HOLDS CONTROL OF LEGISLATURE

House and Senate Are Safely Republican.

BY FRANK BUTZOW.

Incomplete returns indicate little change in the party lineup of the Illinois legislature as a result of yesterday's election. The Republicans remain in control of both houses by comfortable margins, probably slightly increasing their majority in the house. Owing to the huge Coolidge vote, which helped the entire ticket, the Republicans probably retained some senate seats they had feared would be lost.

The makeup of the last legislature was: SENATE—Republicans, 42; Democrats, 9. HOUSE—Republicans, 88; Democrats, 64; Independent, 1.

Legislative returns trickled in slowly behind those on the heads of the tickets. They were so meager, particularly from downstate, that the result in presumably close districts was still in a mere speculative stage.

Capture of either house by the Democrats this year was beyond even their most extravagant hopes, but the Jeffersonians expected to regain some of the senate seats from normally Democratic districts that they lost in the Harding landslide of 1920.

The scattering returns available and the great Coolidge victory indicate that the Republicans may have held some of these districts.

Win at Least 91 Votes. In the house seventy-seven votes are needed to control. Available returns indicate that the Republicans have won at least ninety-one. With sixteen holdover senators, the Republicans needed to win only ten of the twenty-six contested seats yesterday to control. It is indicated that they won at least twenty, and probably more.

There were two outstanding senate contests in Chicago. In the Second district Senator George Van Lent (Rep.) was leading Jerry D. Leahy by a margin of 1,400 votes with less than one-half of the precincts reported. Former Senator Frank McDermott (Dem.) appeared to be winning over Senator Robert W. Schulte (Rep.). Adelbert H. Roberts, Republican, who was elected to fill the Eitelson vacancy in the Third district, will be the first Negro to sit in the Illinois senate. Mrs. Florence Flier Bohrer, Republican, daughter of former Gov. Joseph W. Flier, apparently was elected in the Twenty-sixth (Bloomington) district as the first woman to go to the senate.

Three Women in House. There will be three women in the new house of representatives—Mrs. Lettie Holman O'Neill (Rep., De Paul) who was re-elected; Mrs. Katharine Hancock Good (Rep., Chicago); and Mrs. Rena Elrod (Rep., Chicago). About one-third of the membership of the new house, or 50 of the 113 representatives, will be new members. Forty-two sitting Republicans and thirty-three sitting Democrats were re-elected without question.

Returns at this writing indicate the election of ninety-one Republicans and sixty-two Democrats.

The New Line-Up. The indicated lineup of the new legislature with some districts still held in doubt and others subject to change by more complete returns, follows:

'OUR CAUSE WILL LIVE,' SAYS GOMPERS, WHO FOUGHT, LOST FOR BOB

Washington, D. C., Nov. 4.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, who supported Senator La Follette for the presidency, late tonight issued this statement: "Ours was a protest vote against both old parties, their platforms and their candidates, and our cause will live and find its fruition."

Three Women in House. There will be three women in the new house of representatives—Mrs. Lettie Holman O'Neill (Rep., De Paul) who was re-elected; Mrs. Katharine Hancock Good (Rep., Chicago); and Mrs. Rena Elrod (Rep., Chicago). About one-third of the membership of the new house, or 50 of the 113 representatives, will be new members. Forty-two sitting Republicans and thirty-three sitting Democrats were re-elected without question.

Returns at this writing indicate the election of ninety-one Republicans and sixty-two Democrats.

The New Line-Up. The indicated lineup of the new legislature with some districts still held in doubt and others subject to change by more complete returns, follows:

SENATE.

HOUSE—Republicans, 88; Democrats, 64; Independent, 1.

Legislative returns trickled in slowly behind those on the heads of the tickets. They were so meager, particularly from downstate, that the result in presumably close districts was still in a mere speculative stage.

Capture of either house by the Democrats this year was beyond even their most extravagant hopes, but the Jeffersonians expected to regain some of the senate seats from normally Democratic districts that they lost in the Harding landslide of 1920.

The scattering returns available and the great Coolidge victory indicate that the Republicans may have held some of these districts.

Win at Least 91 Votes. In the house seventy-seven votes are needed to control. Available returns indicate that the Republicans have won at least ninety-one. With sixteen holdover senators, the Republicans needed to win only ten of the twenty-six contested seats yesterday to control. It is indicated that they won at least twenty, and probably more.

There were two outstanding senate contests in Chicago. In the Second district Senator George Van Lent (Rep.) was leading Jerry D. Leahy by a margin of 1,400 votes with less than one-half of the precincts reported. Former Senator Frank McDermott (Dem.) appeared to be winning over Senator Robert W. Schulte (Rep.). Adelbert H. Roberts, Republican, who was elected to fill the Eitelson vacancy in the Third district, will be the first Negro to sit in the Illinois senate. Mrs. Florence Flier Bohrer, Republican, daughter of former Gov. Joseph W. Flier, apparently was elected in the Twenty-sixth (Bloomington) district as the first woman to go to the senate.

Three Women in House. There will be three women in the new house of representatives—Mrs. Lettie Holman O'Neill (Rep., De Paul) who was re-elected; Mrs. Katharine Hancock Good (Rep., Chicago); and Mrs. Rena Elrod (Rep., Chicago). About one-third of the membership of the new house, or 50 of the 113 representatives, will be new members. Forty-two sitting Republicans and thirty-three sitting Democrats were re-elected without question.

Returns at this writing indicate the election of ninety-one Republicans and sixty-two Democrats.

The New Line-Up. The indicated lineup of the new legislature with some districts still held in doubt and others subject to change by more complete returns, follows:

EARMARKS OF A CINCH, CLAIM OF MICHIGAN G. O. P.

All Returns Indicate Big Triumph for Coolidge.

Governor.....A. J. GROESBECK

Lieutenant Governor.....GEO. WELSH

Secretary of State.....C. J. DELAND

Auditor.....O. B. FULLER

Treasurer.....P. D. MCKAY

Attorney General.....A. B. DOUGHERTY

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 4.—(Special.)—Coolidge and Dawes and the Republican state ticket have rolled up substantial pluralities in a total vote well over 1,000,000 in Michigan, it is indicated by the returns received here tonight. These show practically no defections of Republican voting strength to the La Follette ticket in the rural sections.

Davis, second, and the Badger senator, third, were running far behind. In the first precincts reporting, Republican electors had a clear majority. If the trend continues as the heavier voting urban communities report, it is unlikely the Coolidge margin will fall short of 200,000.

Parochial Schools Win. Voting was unusually heavy all over the state, due to Klan and anti-Klan activity and the presence on the ballot of a proposition to abolish parochial schools. Early returns showed that the attack on parochial schools was losing. While returns were slow up by the tremendous vote, 755 precincts counted showed:

Coolidge.....212,544
Davis.....42,500
La Follette.....30,922

In 530 precincts Gov. Alex. J. Groesbeck (Rep.) had received 198,700 votes to 92,222 for Edward Frensdorff (Dem.). In 381 precincts the vote for United States senator showed:

James Cooley (Rep.).....100,880
Frank Cooley (Dem.).....31,606

A proposition to establish a state income tax has been defeated. Early returns indicated the reelection of 'Republican congressmen in eleven of the state's thirteen districts by substantial margins. The Republicans also were claiming the Twelfth district without much trouble, and had his hopes of recovering the one Detroit Democratic district. Detroit Fleets to Fells. All Detroit crowded its way to the polls today in the most picturesque election the city has seen in decades. Indications were that a 95 to 97 per cent vote would be cast. The vote at 11 a. m. today was the highest in the history of the city. In a majority of the districts not less than a third of the early voters were women. At some booths the proportion of women voters was as high as 50 per cent. At 11 a. m. seventeen baby carriages were parked outside the booth of the Twenty-second district of the Tenth ward at Hazelwood avenue and La Salle boulevard, the fashionable district of the city. In all the residential districts many mothers were voting with babies in their arms.

Democracy Keep Florida; 4 of Party to Congress. Governor.....J. W. HARTIN
Secretary of State.....H. C. CHAFFORD
Attorney General.....RIVERS BUFORD
Treasurer.....J. C. LUNING

Tallahassee, Fla., Nov. 4.—The normal Democratic majority of Florida appeared to have prevailed when the polls closed at sundown. Four Democratic congressmen have been chosen. There was no senatorial contest.

The vote for President four years ago was Cox, 90,515; Harding, 44,853.

Cal Making Runaway of Wyoming Contest. Cheyenne, Wyo., Nov. 5.—Two hundred and forty-four precincts of 687 in this state at midnight gave Coolidge, 3,731; Davis, 2,413; La Follette, 3,468. For senator: Warren (R.), 7,735; Rose (D.), 5,189; Kinder (P.), 223. For congressman: Winter (R.), 7,682; Wagoner (D.), 4,519; and for governor: Sullivan (R.), 5,913; Rose (D.), 6,974.

PACING GROWTH. It is often said of a child: "Its strength is not keeping pace with its growth." The child is pale, languid and fails to enjoy the degree of robustness that is every child's right.

Scott's Emulsion brings to a child just the elements needed to help keep pace with growth and thousands of parents attest its efficacy.

Help your child progress in strength and growth—give Scott's Emulsion regularly.

CHAUNCEY DEPEW VOTES AT 91; IT'S HIS 18TH ELECTION

New York, Nov. 4.—Chauncey M. Depew, 91, voted today in his eighteenth presidential election. His record goes back to 1856, when he voted for John Fremont, the first Republican candidate for president. He also recalled that he campaigned for Fremont and expressed the opinion that he was the only man living who took part in that campaign.

"There's nothing to it—it's all for Coolidge," said Mr. Depew. He has voted for every Republican presidential candidate.

Mrs. Depew accompanied him to the polling place.

Oriental Rugs

FROM THE HOUSE OF HOVSEP

Buying Them "Blindfolded"

THE finest compliment a customer could pay a business house was our lot recently.

An admirer and collector of antique rugs made this remark to a friend: "I could go to Hovsep Nahigian's store and buy rugs blindfolded."

Confidence! Priceless confidence.

It means more to us than any other opinion, and we will keep faith. We will strive always to deserve that confidence.

And we will sell fine oriental rugs here at prices lower than in any other store; that is our pledge.

How much real love is there in reel love

Are the great screen lovers in Hollywood, great and heroic lovers in real life, too—or is it all just make-believe? In this week's Liberty, out today, one of movieland's closest observers gives us an intimate glimpse of "off-stage play" in which flaming love, intense rivalry, and famous stars are cast in a stirring, real life drama. It's a revelation. It will amaze you.

Where is the photoplay that hasn't love for its very essence, whether just a transient, whimsical affection of youth, or the deep, raging passion of lovers?

You've seen them all, you've wondered if it was—just screen love.

You've wondered why the great love makers of the screen, whose art deals purely in that mystic thing called love, who know its cruelty—its tenderness, its tyranny—its liberation, its ignominy—its ennoblement, its despair—its rhapsody, its treachery—its transcendent beauty—still could not escape this invisible and irresistible power; why it also encompassed and enslaved them despite all their experience, their play acting.

If you want the answer—if you want to know whether your hero, who recklessly throws his life in the balance to win his screen Juliet, acts just as valiantly, battles as furiously, and woos just as grandiosely in real life, or whether love to him is an unenduring fancy with which he amuses himself—don't fail to read this absorbing revelation of movieland love.

No screen play you have ever seen throbs with the realism, with the romance of this genuine "off-stage play." It is a bit of powerful emotionalism that was not in the scenario, and a rare treat to read. It is a leading feature in one of Liberty's biggest issues.

TEXAS 'CON MEN' BALKED IN FINAL ACT OF THRILLER

Their Victim and Captor Saves Property.

Fort Worth, Tex., Nov. 4.—As thrillers almost, his sensational purchase and capture of the five confidence men who fled him of $40,000, is the story of the salvage of J. Frank Norfleet's home and ranch at Hale Center, Texas, was saved from the sheriff's auction in a deal consummated in Dallas yesterday.

A security company which had been negotiating more than $75,000 for the property was to foreclose this morning. Norfleet had to raise the money no later than yesterday, with no apparent means to do so.

Finds Stranger His Friend.
But the money was raised, the mortgage lifted and the nemesis of one of the most extensive confidence rings in the criminal history of the United States disposed of his home and ranch at the price he had hoped to receive for it.

H. H. Berryman, Alto merchant, was the savior of the Norfleet property. Mr. Berryman had never met Mr. Norfleet, but had read in the newspapers of the determined little man's exploits in rousing up the crowd who had beat him out of his money.

Mr. Berryman and H. D. Chipley, real estate man of Alto, drove out to Norfleet's ranch home, where Berryman told Chipley he would furnish Norfleet's desired cash, and Chipley promised to deliver him to the Dallas office of the security company at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon.

His Property Saved.
Accompanied by his wife and Mrs. Ed Allen, the wife of his partner, Chipley appeared at Mr. Berryman's home yesterday and the trip to Dallas was begun.

About thirty miles out of Lubbock and traveling at a speed of about fifty-five miles an hour, Chipley lost control of the automobile and it turned over, pinning the occupants beneath. None of them was injured, though the top and windshield were demolished. Aid was summoned, the automobile was righted and the trip resumed.

Despite the accident, the party arrived in Dallas just fifteen minutes later than their schedule and closed the transaction.

Drops on Street After Voting; Dies in Drug Store

Dexter W. R. Lindgren, 32, of 1445 North Mayfield avenue, collapsed on the street and died yesterday afternoon after leaving a polling place. He died after being taken to a drug store near Menard and North avenues. Death was due to a hemorrhage.

$10,000 Fire Threatens

U. S. Store of Alcohol

Fire, which started on the second floor of a two story brick building owned by the American Pattern and Model company, 2255 Walnut street, caused damage estimated at $10,000 last night and threatened to destroy a large quantity of alcohol stored in the first floor of the building, which is caused by the government as a warehouse. The second floor is used by the pattern company.

Tucson, Ariz., Nov. 4.—The world flyers passed over Tucson at 2:58 p. m. mountain time, on the way east to Chicago, where they will be given a public reception Sunday night. They left San Diego, Cal., at 9:20 a. m. for a nonstop flight to El Paso, Tex.

YOUNG WIDENER WEDS DIVORCEE AT DAD'S HOME

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 4.—Mrs. Gertrude T. Douglas Peabody and P. A. B. Widener II. were married today at the home of Mr. Widener's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Widener, "Lynne Wood Hall," Elkins Park, near here. The ceremony was performed in the presence of twenty relatives and friends of the bride and bridegroom by the Rev. Charles S. Hamilton, pastor of Victoria Union chapel, Swarthmore, Pa. It took place in the Rembrandt room, containing fourteen Rembrandts of the Widener art collection. Mrs. Widener was formerly the wife of Frederick G. Peabody of Troy, N. Y., from whom she obtained a divorce last month.

The newly married pair will sail on the steamer Berengaria for a honeymoon in Europe and upon their return before the Christmas holidays will reside on the Widener estate at Elkins Park.

Former Dawes Governors Casts 1st Vote—for G. O. P.

Ottumwa, Ia., Nov. 4.—Miss Hettie Tinkham, 55, a former governess in the Charles G. Dawes home, cast her first ballot here today. She was frank to say it was a Republican ballot.

ALL'S QUIET IN WILLIAMSON AS TROOPS WATCH

Marion, Ill., Nov. 4.—The election here was carried on quietly while members of the Illinois National Guard and deputy United States marshals guarded the polling precincts in Williamson county.

Indications according to late returns received here tonight were that Republican candidates for county offices were successful. They had the open support of the Ku Klux Klan, which had been made the principal issue in the county election.

S. Glenn Young, Klan liquor raider, continued his ride during the afternoon and said tonight he expected to make more.

"The result of today's election," said Young, "is a complete vindication of our policy, and those in favor of law enforcement in Williamson county are again in control."

Episcopal Bishop of West Texas Diocese Is Dead

Mobile, Ala., Nov. 4.—Bishop James S. Johnston, for many years head of the Episcopal diocese of west Texas, died early this morning at his home at San Antonio, according to a special message received here.

FRIENDS OF WU LAUNCH DRIVE ON PEKING GROUP

21 Brigades Sent Against Christian General.

BY JOHN POWELL.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

SHANGHAI, Nov. 4.—A general renewal of war was declared tonight in an official communiqué issued from the headquarters of Marshal Chi Shieh-yuan of Kiangsu, stating that the provinces of Chekiang, Hupeh, Shantung, Honan, Szechwan, Kiangsi, and Kiangsu, are supporting Gen. Wu Pei-fu, defeated Chihli leader, and are sending twenty-one mixed brigades against the Christian general, Feng Yu-hsiang, his associate, Gen. Chang Tso-lin of Mukden, and the Anfu leader, Tuan Chi-jui, who has been asked to head the Peking government.

The Chinese navy stationed on the Shantung coast also declared its allegiance to Gen. Wu, and is assisting in the expedition against the present rulers at Peking. Marshal Chi recently defeated Gen. Lu Gung-kwang of Chekiang in the fight for Shanghai.

We Heeded for Yangtze.

Although no news is available here tonight regarding the destination of Gen. Wu, who sailed secretly from Tientsin yesterday morning with a bodyguard of 600 troops, it is generally believed here that his destination is a Yangtze port, either Hankow or Hankou, either place being practically impregnable from attack from the north on account of the distance and travel difficulties.

WU QUILTS TIENTSIN

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

PEKING, Nov. 4.—Gen. Wu Pei-fu, defeated leader of the Chihli forces, has left Tientsin and is now aboard a Chinese cruiser with a bodyguard of 600. It is expected to land at Tientsin, but his eventual destination is uncertain.

Gen. Tuan Chi-jui has begun building an army, independent of but possibly including troops of Gen. Chang Tso-lin, Mukden warlord, and Gen. Feng Yu-hsiang, Christian general who betrayed Gen. Wu and seized Peking. Gen. Tuan told this Tribune correspondent today he had telegraphed the coastal Yangtze provinces not to permit Gen. Wu to attempt to establish a government and he has the assurance of Gen. Chi Shieh-yuan of Nanking that he will not join Gen. Wu.

Gen. Wu delayed his flight until the retreating elements reached him, when he advised them to reënter in Gen. Tuan's army. Gen. Tuan is not likely to rush to Peking, but will probably remain in the British concession in Tientsin until his plans are formulated. He may not call a round table conference as planned, but, instead, may proceed directly with the drafting of a provisional constitution, since he Awail Chang's Attitude.

He anticipates friction with the present cabinet, which is endeavoring to negotiate a final Sino-Russian treaty before Gen. Tuan asserts a dictatorship. Gen. Chang is prepared to cancel Manchurian independence provided he is cared for in the new government.

Gen. Chang's son is now in Tientsin conferring with Gen. Tuan regarding his father's visit to Peking. Gen. Feng's attitude towards Gen. Tuan's dictatorship program is still uncertain.

STORMY SESSION AT INQUEST ON WRECK DEATHS

Various forms of safeguarding the public were discussed yesterday during the inquest over the ten persons killed Sunday morning in the street car freight train wreck. Some of the discussion was in heated words, Alderman Arthur F. Albert (43d) precipitating several clashes by his questions.

Judge Harry M. Olson, foreman of the coroner's jury of prominent citizens, told why the railroad discontinued the use of safety appliances at the grade crossing. Mr. Gillick stated they had been used from 1894 until 1919 by agreement between the railroad and the surface lines.

General Manager on Stand.

J. T. Gillick, general manager of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad, was on the witness stand during the inquest over the deaths of the ten persons killed Sunday morning in the street car freight train wreck.

Ald. Albert replied that he was not, that, rather, he was in favor of holding the railroad officials responsible for the ten deaths instead of trying to load all the blame on the towerman.

TWO CHILDREN ADDED TO LIST OF AUTO VICTIMS

Deaths of Boy and Girl
Raise Total to 567.

The lives of two children were wiped out yesterday by automobiles and the hands of the clock of death were advanced until they indicated that 567 persons have been killed in Cook county since Jan. 1.

Meanwhile Doyle J. Snyder, a University of Chicago student, died in Lafayette, Ind., from an accident that occurred Oct. 26.

Saul Trani, 3 years old, 841 Lafayette parkway, was playing on Lawrence avenue near Sheridan road yesterday when an automobile swung around the corner. It struck the boy. The car was driven by Max M. Kiebel, 519 Addison street.

Child, 3, Is Killed.

An ambulance was summoned and the child, half unconscious, was taken to the Lake View hospital. On the way the baby cried "Don't tell me—don't tell me." The child died within an hour.

Kiebel is being held by the Town Hall police.

Little Lucille Rotchford, 5 years old, 1913 South 48th avenue, Cicero, was struck by an automobile while attempting to cross 21st street at 48th court. The girl was taken to St. Anthony's hospital by the Cicero police, where she died.

Witnesses Exonerate Driver.

Charles Srd, 2721 South Spaulding avenue, was taken into custody by the police, but when he and witnesses explained that he had been unable to avoid striking the child with his automobile he was released. He will, however, appear at the inquest this morning.

Word of young Snyder's death came to Chicago last night. The student, who was the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Snyder, 5623 Dorchester avenue, was injured when he and four other university students were driving to Columbus to attend the Ohio-Chicago football game.

Mrs. Harding Improves and Breaks Fast Heartily

Marion, O., Nov. 4.—(By the Associated Press.)—Mrs. Florence Kling Harding, widow of President Harding, who has been seriously ill for the last two weeks, was better today, Dr. Carl W. Sawyer, her physician, said this morning. Mrs. Harding had a fairly good night's rest, and ate a hearty breakfast, Dr. Sawyer said.

FINDS MOTHER DEAD.

Mrs. Mary O'Brien, 51, of 2459 Arlington street, died of gas poisoning yesterday. Her son John found the body.

HANDS OF DEATH

The hands of the clock indicate the number of deaths by autos, guns, and moonshine in Cook county since Jan. 1.

USERS LAMP FOR CLUB.

Miss Sarah Hodge, colored, 33 years old, 917 Townsend street, was severely cut when she was struck yesterday with a kerosene lamp in a quarrel with William Robinson, also colored, 35 years old. Robinson was arrested. The lamp was shattered.

H. MORGENTHAU RESIGNS AS HEAD OF RELIEF BODY

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.) VIENNA, Nov. 4.—Henry Morgenthau, former ambassador to Turkey, and at present head of the commission for Armenian and Russian refugees administering the league of nations fund, has resigned, according to advices today from Athens.

Bitter attacks against the league commission in the Greek press are declared to be behind his resignation. For several months the newspapers at Athens and Saloniki have been attacking the entire committee because the local representative in Saloniki, a Russian-German named Kaufmann, was accused of embezzling funds placed at his disposal. M. Kaufmann's guilt was established, say the Greek newspapers. Mr. Morgenthau evidently was held responsible for the acts of one of his agents.

The committee also met difficulties in its relations with the Turkish government, it is said in Athens.

Chicago's Home in Indianapolis THE LINCOLN

IT SEEMS like a part of Chicago transplanted to another town. The Chicago spirit and atmosphere are so much in evidence here that you feel you are still on Michigan Boulevard!

The Hotel Lincoln is so actively patronized by Chicago people that it is recognized as their favorite hotel in Indianapolis. There are many reasons:

Almost at the doors are the Union Station and the Interurban Terminal, while most of the street cars pass the building. Theaters, offices and stores are all within immediate reach.

There are 400 rooms—all outside and each with bath. The rates are surprisingly moderate—270 of the guest rooms are priced at $2.50 to $3.50 for one, and $4.00 to $5.50 for two.

The cuisine is perfect, and the courteous, friendly service is beyond criticism. Music is provided at both luncheon and dinner; the club breakfasts, table d'hôte luncheon and dinner and a la carte meals are faultlessly served, while the Cafe on the lobby floor offers a welcome alternative—also the Tea Room and Coffee Shop.

Red Riding Hood

By ELIZABETH JORDAN

SYNOPSIS.
Mrs. Morgan Schuyler, one of New York's leading philanthropic and social lights, is a young woman to work in her apartment morning. The advertisement is answered by a girl evidently of high and breeding. In spite of the fact that she admits a desire to hide her identity, Mrs. Schuyler accepts her on trust and tags her with the name of Hope Emerson.

Mrs. Schuyler's family consists of her mother, Mrs. Van Dorn; a young brother, Jim Van Dorn, and a sister, Bertie, who is away.
The second morning of her employment Hope faints after receiving a mysterious telephone call. Mrs. Schuyler summons Dr. Horace Osborne. Hope tells the doctor she is employed during the afternoon hours on East 70th street. He offers to drive her there and a strange coincidence has an appointment at the house where Hope is employed. The patient is a boy of 5 years, about whom the entire household mysteriously revolves. The closest guardian an uncle named Sorenson. All of the members of this household are foreigners except Hope, who is known as Sonia. A day or two later, a visitor, Colonel Van Dorn, a man of obvious importance, calls at the 70th street house. Hope distrusts him, and leaves Sorenson's door also. Van Dorn tells Schuyler he is going to take the boy away that night. Hope decides to call on Dr. Osborne for help. He accompanies her to the house, where the two conspirators find Van Dorn there before them. By a trick the colonel locks Hope and the doctor in the room with the child. They escape through the window and take the boy to a hospital.
The next morning Sally Wallace calls on Hope at the Schuylers. She tells the secretary about her hopeless love affair. The man in the case has just returned to New York after a long absence and Sally learns that he is ill in a sanitarium and facing a serious operation.

INSTALLMENT XLV. JIM MAKES A TEMPTING SUGGESTION.

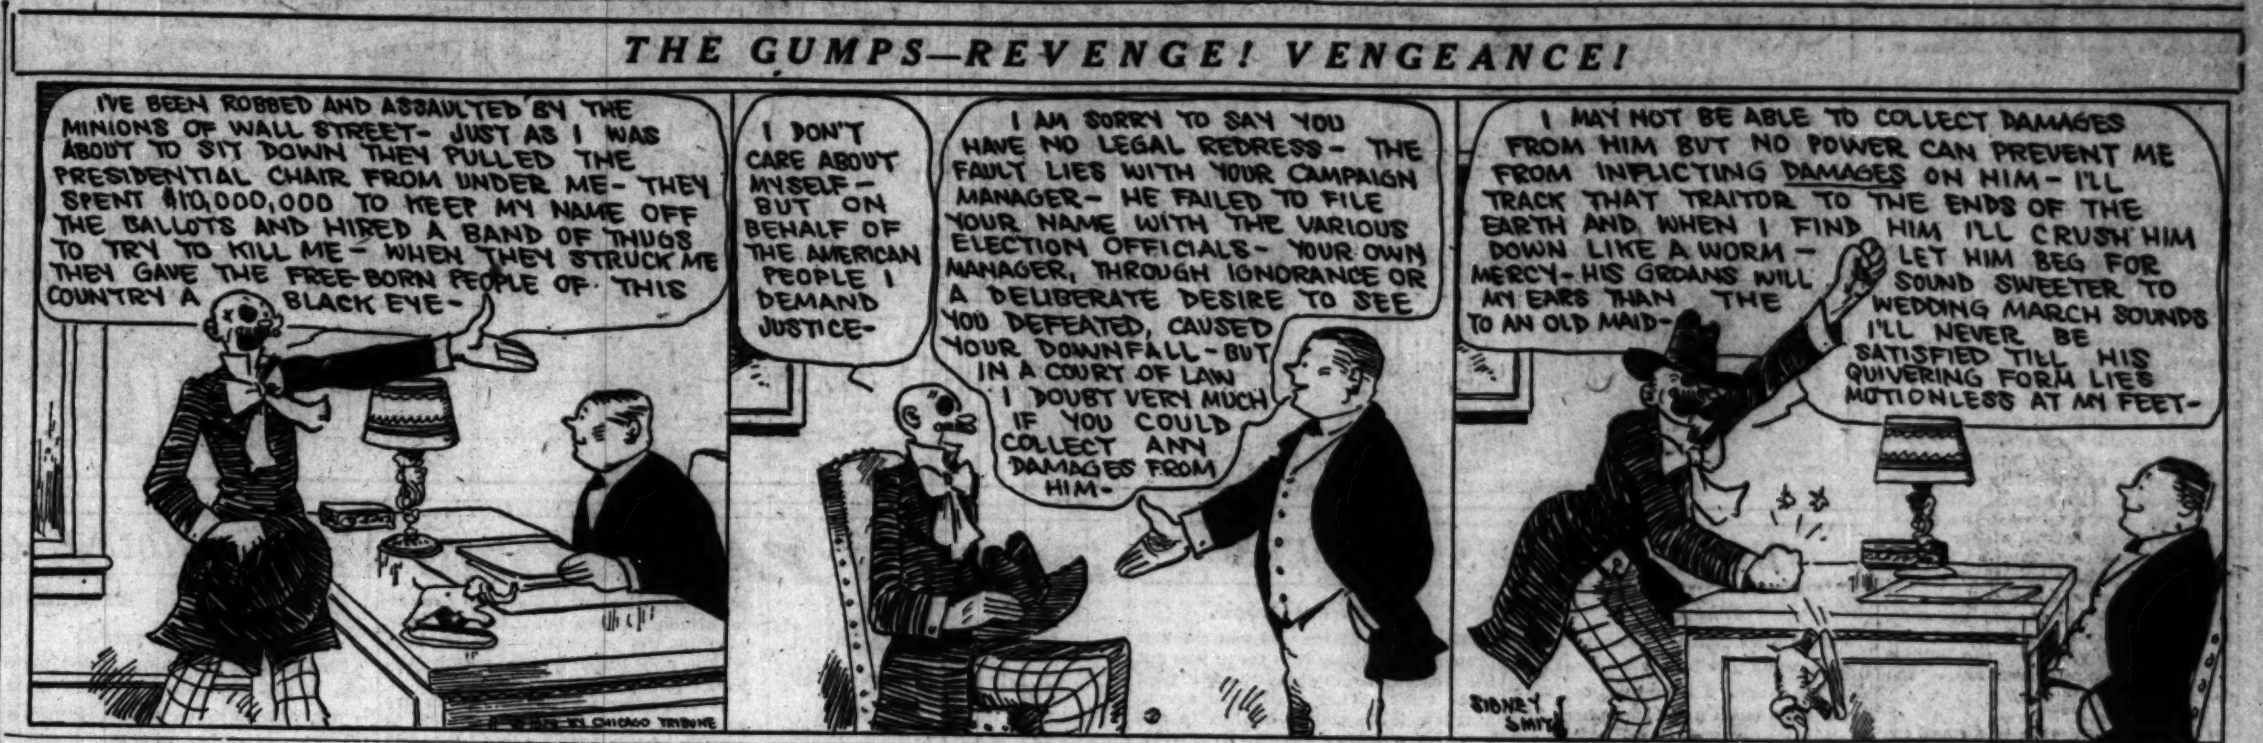

Hope answered half a dozen letters and several telephone calls before the younger son of the house presented himself in the study, distilling exuberance.
"Are you going to be very busy today?" she asked after a brief greeting.
The young man's face took on a full holiday expression.
"Not if you need me."
"I don't, but Sally may. Could you keep a pretty close eye on her, especially this evening?"

"You know you're in love with me, Sally."

"You bet I can. I'll telephone asking her to come downtown and lunch with me, and I'll take her to dinner and a play tonight if she'll go. Will that do?"
"I think so. You can decide for yourself during the luncheon. She has just been here and I don't like the mood she's in."
The young man sat down.
"Let's talk it over," she suggested. "I'll cut the office. Money grabbing is abhorrent to me. Besides, I have enough for my simple needs though it may not supply all you're accustomed to. Do you think we could worry along on six thousand a year?"
Hope shook her head at him. She was in no mood for persiflage.
"Go away now," she said, and don't forget to look after Sally."
"I'm almost sure I'd rather look after you," the visitor complained, but he rose obediently.
"You wouldn't. You know you're in love with Sally, so why deny it?"
"On the other hand, she confesses it," the young man looked at her with sudden seriousness. "Sally's young affections are engaged elsewhere, and I'm one of the chaps you read about who've got to let concealment prey on 'em like the worm in the bud."
"Dear boy," Hope spoke very gently, "do you imagine you're concealing it?"
"I hope so. Except for you and mother and Maud and Kawa and Sally herself, and the bunch, and the elevator and basement staff in this building and all my friends and downtown business associates, I don't think any one suspects a thing." He dropped the subject so definitely that his companion almost heard it fall.
"How about going with us tonight?" he brought out. "Dinner at some ally place, a good cheerful play afterwards. Come now, confess that it would hurt you. Besides, you can keep an eye on Sally, too, and believe me, no single pair of eyes will keep Sally in view if she's really on the rampage."
Hope reflected. The suggestion tempted her. After all, she was young, and she hadn't dined out or seen a good play for a long time. Mrs. Schuyler wouldn't like it, but against this objection was the matter of Sally's condition and Sally's eyes. If Mrs. Schuyler knew all the aspects of the situation she would approve.
"I believe I'll go," she decided.
"Good work!" Van Dorn's satisfaction was sincere. "Shall we say the 11th, then, at seven?"
"Heavens, no! Make it a place where we can be quietly dressed and inconspicuous."
"All right. Whatever you say. There's an awfully good Russian dining club in the Forties, where they give you a special program while you eat, and have general dancing afterwards. The patrons wear anything they please, but evening clothes to match. Would that do?"
"It sounds interesting." The secretary reflected that she would not be apt to meet there any one she knew. "It will be charming," she ended.
"Then I'll call for you here at half-past six."
"No, I'll meet you and Sally there at seven. I suppose they have a waiting room?" she made a note of the address. "And now please trot along. I really must get back to work."
She gave him a smile with a quality of radiance new to him and he departed for his office wearing his twin brother, whose hunter not even a five minutes wait for the elevator dimmed. It also survived the minor annoyance of a slight skid on the sleek covered steps leading from the entrance doors to the sidewalk. But when he discovered that he had missed by a fraction of a second the subway express train he had especially wished to catch, Van Dorn took the smile off. It was clearly out of place in the business world, but he could put it on again with his evening clothes at six o'clock that night.
Miss Emerson was an efficient young person and she knew it, which was one reason why she so lightly added to her daily schedule the burdens of others. Nevertheless, she was surprised by the amount of work she was able to accomplish that morning. She even ran lightly through the mass of circulars and begging letters that for a fortnight had lain unopened on the desk of the overworked Mrs. Van Dorn. Most of these Hope destroyed, and she returned to the disappointed senders half a dozen five dollar tickets for which had been held a few days longer. The old lady would certainly have had to pay. During these altruistic labors the recipient of the letters beamed on her complacently. She had a secretary! She was busy with her secretary that morning. She would mention that to her friends. In the meantime she momentarily mentioned Bertie. Bertie's name was the love motive of her life.
Mrs. Schuyler telephoned that she would not be home for luncheon, and the secretaries had a companionable meal together while the secretary listened to another maternal saga on the theme of Bertie. The older son appeared to be filling his mother's mind even more than usual, if that was possible. She carried with unbroken afternoon in Bertie's infancy when she had been moved to leave him alone for hours with his nurse. He had disappeared, and the frantic servant, unable to reach his mother, had stirred the neighbors to a vain search for him. When Mrs. Van Dorn returned, she found Bertie peacefully asleep in the closet off her bedroom, with his arms embracing the skirt of her best gown and his face unobtrusively buried in its folds. He explained that he had been lonesome and seeking for her, and he intimated as well as an infant of limited vocabulary could do that her gown was the best substitute for her he had been able to find.
Until the secretary departed the old lady wandered about the house in a daze, looking and acting rather like a lonely child herself. Now that her correspondence had been attended to she was plainly less busy than usual, and even the charms of her radio failed to interest her. Hope, conscious of this unusual quiet, would have liked to remain with her, but she was due in East 70th street at two o'clock. She suggested to Nancy that it might be wise to work in the general region of Mrs. Van Dorn's room until Mrs. Schuyler returned. Then, leaving several dozen letters for her employer to sign and read off, as well as a few closely written pages of telephone memoranda, she hurried toward the subway with a heart that, despite the relief of these activities, was none the less lightly on its throne.
In the train she had leisure to check off the items that should have given her ease of mind. The outstanding one, of course, was that Vassili was in personal charge of affairs in the East Seventieth street house. There was an unusual comfort in this, and an equal misfortune in the companion reflection that the next evening again see Van Dorn. Vassili, plainly the banker of the house, would immediately pay the Tartar's hospital and nurses' fees. If he had not already done so, and would naturally insist on recompensing Doctor Osborne for his time. Vassili always handled money with a air of abandonment, willingness to pay for everything promptly and in cash was a comforting assurance for a penniless young person who the previous night had assumed financial obligations she could not meet. Moreover, the Tartar was home.

By Mae Tine.
Good Morning!
To a just-aded movie public comes more sturdy refreshment in this picture called "Sundown" which is the screen story of the passing of the cattleman.
For a time at least it seems we have swapped the ballroom for the frontier! The lounge lizard for the he-man of the open spaces; the slim, cigarette-scented flapper for the clear eyed girl with the sun kissed lips and the wind in her hair.
We find that we are gratefully lifting our eyes from the muck of sensationalism to the hills and fields from which our pioneers received their strength and reveling in pictures dealing with achievement. "Sundown," "The Iron Horse," "Frontier Trails," "The Covered Wagon," etc.
Nice and restful and wholesomely stimulating at the same time, for, tell the world, our country's builders never lacked excitement!
"When East Came West" might have served as a title for "Sundown," which is of the "nesters," who, grant of sections of land by the government, gradually populate the cattle country and force the cattlemen to drive their herds into Mexico, the only place at last where they can find grazing space.
There's a love story—but it is more or less incidental. "Sundown's" big pull lies in its vast panoramic effect, its coloring, its photography, and its stirring cattle drive. Ah—that cattle drive is something to see, with its thousands of beautiful, motting beasts and the stern, and men, who, having made the west safe for civilization, are forced by "the gentle fingers of progress" to move.
Laughs lighten the production, and tender passages between Miss Love,

CLOSEUPS

They tell me that Ramon Navarro is daily causing great excitement in the streets of Leghorn, Italy. He's Ben Hur, you know, in "Ben Hur," which is being filmed overseas, and when, all fixed up like a galley slave, he walks about town, everybody turns out to look and almost everybody, with flattering interest, follows him in his peregrinations.
Ruth Clifford will be featured in Frank Lloyd's coming feature film, "Judgment."
who, with her bookkeeper father, comes west to "nest," and Roy Stewart, art, cowboy son of cattleman father, are interesting and convincing. But, as I said, the love story gracefully keeps in the background that the big punches may have plenty of chance to get across. (And they do get across—big)
See you tomorrow!

Maier and Pattison Are Improved Artists in Two-Piano Recital
BY EDWARD MOORE.
Detouring for a moment from the trumpeting of election returns to the gentler tone of music from two pianos, the vote at Kimball hall last night was unanimous for Guy Maier and Lee Pattison, who played one of their infectious joint programs after an absence of a year and a half.
They have raised this form of entertainment to a higher level than any 1924 pianists in memory—not that there have been so many in the past. Having heard them both in individual appearances, and fully conscious of their many merits as solo players, I will think that they are about four times as good when they are together as either is singly.
If anything, they were better players last night than ever before. Their announcements of changes in the program and encores were kept reasonably confidential for the first few rows, but their music spoke to all, a little more resonant and sonorous than it used to be. Their interplay fairly glittered with exactness; Debussy's "Afternoon of a Faun" was as filmy and evanescent as a symphony orchestra is accustomed to make it; they have the flexible pulsation of the dance as few pianists ever have it.
When they play Ravi's Gavotte and Musette, Mr. Pattison's freely treated arrangement of "The Arkansas Traveler," Chabrier's "Espana," or Arensky's waltz, then you have the dance feeling as it ought to be in music, something that tingles the blood and at the same time has its own mood.
They played some jazz, too, and their auditors, in complete disregard of all arguments that jazz should be banished from hearing in favor of something higher and better, called for repetition. They were still calling for extra numbers when I left the hall.

THEATERS

"Cheaper to Marry" will be shown the night of the 18th in the Playhouse, with Miss Mona Bruns and Frank Thomas in the cast. This place, one of Samuel Shipman's social documents, had a New York exhibition last season. Meanwhile, the performances in the Playhouse of "Strange Bedfellows" reply attendance by those of you who are fond of topical comedy based on the common experience of life in American cities. I could easily list a score or more of poorer pieces in general kind that have prospered in recent Chicago seasons. Barry Corner, the author, hasn't yet mastered the techniques and the tricks; but he has managed with only unimportant exaggeration to stage the case of the average woman in politics, and has provided a human and credible figure out of ward-chiciness in Dutch McKenna, acted to the nines by William Courtleigh.
Houdini, who has a way of getting out of things and then explaining how, is named as co-author with Calvin Harris of a piece called "The Stratton Case," with a spoof-effect by Houdini that is expected to cause queues at the box office.
"White Cargo," which had mean beginnings in New York, is a year old there, in among the functioning enforcements of the London theaters, and is the medium whereby the Cort has been restored to prosperity after a lean running back to the run of "Thank You!"
Miss Rita Weisman, remembered for a play called "The Accusation," has written one named "Moon-Magic" that is bulletined for early staging.
"Hell-Bent for Heaven," whose author got the most recent Pulitzer prize for American drama, is tentatively mentioned for an early showing in Chicago, where it was expected late last Spring. . . . Another singer, new to Chicagoans, Flora Perini, a mezzo-soprano, has been given the rôle of Laura to the Alvis of Alexander Kipnis. Others new to Auditorium audiences will appear in minor rôles.
Perhaps one of the reasons for the selection of "La Gioconda" is the pageantry of the piece. Colorful throughout, a ballet—which will under the direction of Serge Oukrainy—gives a chance for something of a spectacle.
The production will move under the potent hand of Giorgio Polacco. All the scenery of the opera is new, painted and constructed during the late summer.
"La Tosca," with Claudia Muzio appearing here for the first time in the rôle of Tosca, will be put on tomorrow night. Mariano Stabile will make his American debut as Scarpia in this performance, seats for which are reported all purchased.
The Attie Players, who attie in the Barn at 7501 Malvern Avenue, are to devote the evenings of the 6th, 7th, 8th, 10th, 11th, and 12th to performing in "Tadpole de Banville's" "The Charming Leandre," Lord Dunaway's "The Glittering Gate," and Lawrence Langner's "Another Way Out." . . . You know who the Banville and Dun-Selander are; and Mr. Langner is the country gentleman who has talked uplift into a bank-account by means of the Theater Guild of New York.
Miss Julia Hoyt, recently on view here in "Expressing Willie," expects to go into the New York production of Bernstein's "Judith," in which she performed some time since in a Baltimore try-out. . . . As to the venture with "Expressing Willie" of which she is the black-type leader, the actors' union, which pays the license, is expected to add it to the viable supply of debris, although the original cast is still prospering in its New York performances of the feeble comedy.

Opera Tonight Opens Winter Social Season

Raisa in "La Gioconda" First Offering.
BY CHARLES H. GABRIEL JR.
Its historic horseshoe once more bedecked with the finest jewels, the latest fashions, the city's most prominent society folk, the Auditorium theater will throw open its doors tonight to the opening of what promises to be a brilliant season of the Chicago Civic Opera.
Always the "high spot" on the winter season, both musically and socially, the roster of artists announced, the list of operas to be given and the names of the boxholders have combined not only to sell out the house for the opening but push the season's tickets sales beyond what they have been heretofore.
Contrary to the usual custom of using the tried and trusty "Aida" for the "curtain raiser" of the season, the management has picked the lesser known "La Gioconda," by Amilcare Ponchielli.
Rosa Raisa, dramatic soprano, will sing the leading rôle. Kathryn Melis, contralto, who last year created something of a furore at her operatic debut, will appear as the blind mother of the soprano. Still more of a newcomer, the Spanish tenor, Antonio Cortez, will make his first appearance in American opera as Enzo. Another singer, new to Chicagoans, Flora Perini, a mezzo-soprano, has been given the rôle of Laura to the Alvis of Alexander Kipnis. Others new to Auditorium audiences will appear in minor rôles.

In the rotogravure section of this Tribune last Sunday in the caption under the picture of the Apollo Musical club mention was made of the "Bill" William L. Tomlin. Miss Christine Tomlin, daughter of Mr. Tomlin, states that her father has not passed away, but is located at present in Boston, where he is doing very fine work.
In the Tribune of Monday the picture of Mrs. Maud Wood Park was printed and carried underneath it the name of Belle Sherwin.

Team Work's the Answer to These Marital Problems

BY DORIS BLAKE.

Translating from a Paris Journal at hand comes a statement by Boleau, in which he says: "The average American husband and wife are only semi-attached. That is what you would call them. There is no deep bond. They jog along in harness, but each is trying all the time to pull away as far as possible. There is no real team work."

This from a Frenchman seems to be rather an amazing indictment. Not true in the general run of cases, but we all know what he means. We can all see around us examples every day of just that type of couple. The man absorbed in his business, taking his pleasures at the club, spending as much time away from home as he possibly can. The woman doing the same thing, as far as she can manage it, in her more limited way. Or there is another kind of couple, where both of them stay closely at home, but where there is no real unity of purpose or work. A certain hostile, critical attitude has grown up with the years, so that even the casual visitor in the home is moved to exclaim on leaving: "If they would only stop their eternal fussing and work together."

Reading an indictment like Boleau's, one knows immediately if the shoe fits or not. If it doesn't, one can indulge in a bit of self-congratulation—"I'm glad we're not that way."

But if it does fit, even to a small extent, it's an amazingly good thing to stop and consider what to do about it. Young people are writing me their trials and troubles every day, and I will have to own that a certain considerable per cent of them hang around this one point.

"My husband doesn't seem interested in me or in the home any more. He has so many outside interests. What can I do about it?"

"My wife is a lot more anxious to make a hit at the club than she is at home. She is so different from what she was when we were married—so much colder."

If there is one pitfall which young couples starting in marriage ought to be wary of, it is just this growing apart habit. For that is what it is, after all—a habit. And a deadly, dangerous one, and one which, like alcohol or drugs, brings with it certain misery and woe.

"It isn't my fault. I do everything I can," the confessor usually says. But is this true? It takes two to

DORIS BLAKE'S ANSWERS

Why Not?

"Dear Miss Blake: Recently I met a nice young girl who is working in a dancing studio. I have been out with her several times and admire her. She is always nice to me. Do you advise me to marry her? I love her dearly. Is it safe to marry a girl of her kind? I mean a girl from a dancing studio. 'Sam.'"

"I think it is up to the girl to make the decision, don't you? And if you patronize the particular dancing studio, would it not seem reasonable to believe the girl quite deserving of you? I do not understand your questioning it."

make a quarrel, and it takes two to make an unhappy marriage.

A wife said to me not long ago: "You are always egging the wives on to do all the making up, and the con-ciliating and the getting along. Why should not a man do his share?"

He should, of course, but if some-times I may seem to urge on the wife more than her just share, it is because she as a rule has so much power in her own hands. Her sphere is pri-marily the home, and managing that home is her job.

No, It's Not Proper.

"Dear Miss Blake: Do you think it proper for a fellow who takes you out for the evening to ask you for a good night kiss? What would you say to a fellow if he should happen to ask you this question? SYLVIA."

No. Does it sound proper to you? What should you say to him? One young woman told me in a letter she told the boy who asked her by asking her for a kiss that she would knock him off the front porch if he tried that again. I really don't think one needs to be quite so pugilistic as that. Tell him not to be so silly—that you don't like petting parties.

Smith Club Conference.

The conference of western Smith college clubs will take place on Nov. 17 at the Fortnightly. The program will include: Morning business session, from 9:30 to 11 o'clock; luncheon at 12:30 o'clock; motor trip, from 1:30 to 2:30 o'clock; afternoon session, from 3 to 4:30 o'clock; tea at 4:30, and dinner at 7 o'clock, to be followed by a lecture by President Alan Nelson. Miss Ellen Holt is chairman of the committee on arrangements.

MEN'S FASHIONS

BY A. T. GALICCO.

Pointed Collar Popular
NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—These long pointed collars, such as in the illustration today, are certainly among the up and coming vogue of the season. In fact, they are more than up and coming. They have come, and if you haven't got yours yet, you'd better get it. This type of collar is not only among those present in the soft collars, on the collar attached shirt, but it is being made also in the starched variety, both white, and those which match the fancy shirt.

In the cases where two collars are sold with one shirt, one of them is usually of this long pointed kind, and the other the short round. Thus you have your pick and you take your choice. The long pointed collar is becoming to the average man, especially to a large man, with large neck.

Fashionnotes.

There's plenty of color on the well dressed men these days. Here's how some of it was put together in outfits we've noticed of late. One man was wearing one of the new lavender toned suits. With it he wore a pale green shirt, stiff bodiced, a striped tie of dark green and purple, black shoes, a light gray hat, and a dark blue topcoat.

Another costume consisted of smoke blue suit, a bluish gray hat, a blue and white striped shirt with plaid bosom, a striped tie of navy blue, light blue and silver gray, tan shoes, blue and gray woolen socks, and a dark blue guards' coat.

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Franconia Potatoes.

The method of baking peeled potatoes in the pan with a roast of meat is old, although the name Franconia for them is rather new and possibly copyrighted by the late Miss Fannie M. Farmer. Potatoes so baked need no sauce, although the meat gravy is acceptable with them, as it is with a slice of meat.

Either white or sweet potatoes may be so cooked, and, in any case, small ones are best, because they get most thoroughly seasoned, and best because they do not require such long baking and so will not have a dried up surface. A nice brown and rather moist surface is best.

Parboil the potatoes ten minutes and rinse with cold water. Then put them in the pan with the meat and baste with the hot fat at once. Sweet potatoes may need to be parboiled a bit longer, since they are not peeled before parboiling, then rinsed with cold water and the skin rubbed off, or, if it sticks a bit, a knife may be used. For a family of varied tastes it is a good plan to have some of both sorts of potatoes. If small, they will bake

Baby Helen had been naughty, and brother scolded her.

When he passed also said, "Brother, you howl yourself out and I'll howl myself out."

Buddy was wheeling the carriage containing his baby sister. A neighbor approached and stopped to chat.

"Can the baby talk?" he asked.

"Fert near it," answered Buddy. "She can smile."

"What would you like for your birthday?" Dorothy was asked.

"Well, mother," was the reply, "I'd like a puppy dog, and, if I can't have that, I'd like a puppy kitten."

Beauty

A Gleamy Mass of Hair

35c "Dandarine" does Wonders for Any Girl's Hair.

Girls! Try this! When combing and dressing your hair, just moisten your hair-brush with a little "Dandarine" and brush it through your hair. The effect is startling! You can do your hair up immediately and it will appear twice as thick and heavy—mass of gleamy hair, sparkling with life and possessing that incomparable softness, freshness and luxuriance.

While beautifying the hair "Dandarine" is also toning and stimulating each single hair to grow thick, long and strong. Hair stops falling out and dandruff disappears. Get a bottle of "Dandarine" at any drug or toilet counter and just see how healthy and youthful your hair appears after this delightful, refreshing dressing.

CUBS-PIRATES NOT TO CLASH IN SPRING SERIES

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Extra-base pitcher, who will not be included in the next spring training jaunt of Bill Killefer's Cubs. They were given their last year, when the Pirates were encountered in four battles during the return from the Catalina Island training camp, but President William Veck has decided not to repeat the dose, but gate receipts notwithstanding.

One reason for Veck's decision to play other than a team or teams in his own league is that the procedure smacks just a bit of commercialism. It creates an impression that the manager can't wait for the regular season to get their attraction going. As a matter of fact such games provide good practice, but the public doesn't take that view and just now baseball has mud on its shoes and anything that tends to make it a more pleasant subject for the fans' discussion should be adopted.

Risk to Players.
Another thing that caused the Cub executive to change his view was the experience of last spring. The cities on the route covered by the Cubs on their homeward jaunt this year did not boast diamonds suited to battles such as two major league teams are certain to wage whenever they get together. Natural pride and even with nothing at stake. The result is unnecessary risk to the valuable limbs of the talent.

Is the Pirate-Cub game played at Kingman, Ariz., last April, Ace Elliott of Killefer's gang batted for a fellow worker and singled. He took a long chance and tried to make second base on his hit, but he was too wary to beat the ball and Elliott was carried off the field with a broken leg. His spikes had caught in the hard clay.

Costly to Cubs.
That mishap cost the club more than its share of all the receipts of the four games with the Pirates. Elliott was in a hospital for a month and it was almost August before he was able to rejoin the team. Even after getting back into uniform he was of little use. All that time, however, the club was obligated to pay his salary, whereas if he hadn't been injured he would have been turned over to the Wichita Falls, Tex., club.

The day after Elliott was hurt the two teams played on another skinned diamond that was hard and rocky, and the Pirates displayed little desire to exert themselves. The result was a puny exhibition of baseball and the promoters of the game were so peeved over the show that they threatened to withhold the money due the two clubs. It is barely possible that when the National league first in December a move may be started looking toward the banning of exhibition games between teams in that circuit. The American league now has such a regulation in force. There is no objection, of course, to tours in which American and a National league team hook up.

COLLEGE GIRLS COMPOSE LOCAL HOCKEY TEAM

The All Chicago girls' hockey team, when it meets the United States field hockey series at the new Grant park stadium Sunday in an intercollegiate match, will be composed of players who have seen at least four years' service on various university squads. Bryn Mawr, Smith and Wellesley colleges will be represented in the game. Five stars who have been selected for the local team will come from Wisconsin, while Lake Forest and the Midway club will have three players in the starting lineup.

The invading clubbers, arriving here Saturday morning, will take on the Wisconsin hockey squad at Washington park in the afternoon for a practice tilt. The local players will continue their practice this afternoon on the Midway and for the first time will don their new light green tux.

Beloit Co-eds Protest Early Return from Game

Beloit, Wis., Nov. 4.—(Special.)—Co-eds of Beloit college are indignant because they must return to Beloit on a special train one hour after the Beloit-Cornell football game to be played at Rockford, Ill., next Saturday. The fact that they must report to chapters both before and after the game is also causing irritation.

Swartz Wins Iowa Tennis Meet and Looks Promising

Iowa City, Ia., Nov. 4.—(Special.)—Swartz, Des Moines boy, looked like the Iowa tennis champion when he took the university championship from Blackstone, conqueror of the variety stars. Among Blackstone's victims was Latta, who, with Capt. Swanson, was runner-up in the Big Ten doubles last spring. Swartz was a variety candidate last spring, but did not make the squad until late in the season. His phenomenal rise promises a lot for the coming season. He took straight sets from the doped winner.

Midwest Elevens Play Elimination Tilt Sunday

Second round elimination games will be played in the Midwest football league Sunday. The Elgin Legion team, coached by Ray Whipple, former Notre Dame star, entered the heavy-weight division at this week's meeting. They will tackle the Evanston Elks at Elgin and a hard battle is expected. After much dickering and one postponement the Oak A. A. and the Pullman-Roosevelt Panthers will get together on the former's grounds in a tilt that will go a long way towards determining the title.

MOON MULLINS—TRY AND GET IT

Motorodom Today By J. L. Jenkins

NOW that election day is over and they have reopened the drug stores, nothing more stands in the way of the late fall and early winter pilgrimage into the lands of warmer weather. Highway and motor organizations in California are preparing to care for at least 12,000 more cars than rolled into the state from the east last year. Florida traffic is expected to be at least 25 per cent heavier due in part to the opening, Nov. 15, of the newly improved Dixie "A" route straight south from Cincinnati through the Kentucky hills.

Last year census takers of the Automobile Club of Southern California checked 180,925 cars into the state over the five main routes. Arrivals over the same routes up to October this year totaled 148,070 cars. This will mean about 200,000 visiting motorists by Jan. 1.

FARM AND GARDEN By FRANK RIDGWAY

SIL FILLER USED TO DRY AND SAVE SOFT CORN.

VARIOUS schemes are being used by farmers this fall in drying their soft corn artificially. With corn going into the crib in a moist condition, much of it will mold and spoil before it is fed unless it is artificially dried.

Forcing cold or heated air through the corn is one of the most common means of artificial drying practiced by farmers this fall in the corn belt. In equipping for force drafts, engineers at the Ohio station advise the use of one or more ventilating lengths of pipe in the crib, one end closed and the other connected with a fan. A pipe may be placed under the floor, forcing up the air through the corn from the bottom of the crib. Forced drafts are also furnished by wind stackers, but the silo fillers are in more general use.

Cold air increases the drying of corn, but warm air gives the best results. House furnaces are sometimes used to furnish warm air. Park of Ohio says that unless a vigorous draft of warm air is sent through the corn there is danger that injury rather than benefit will result.

U. of C. Harriers Race Wisconsin Team Saturday

Madison, Wis., Nov. 4.—The University of Chicago cross country team will be guests of the Wisconsin cross country team at the Wisconsin-Notre Dame football game here Saturday afternoon. The Maroon runners will meet the Badgers Saturday morning in their annual cross country run and one of the greatest races in years is anticipated. With two conference winners of last year Chicago will send an unusually strong team to Madison in an effort to stop the Badgers, who already have defeated Marquette, Minnesota, and Michigan handily this fall.

Howe Cadet Corps Will See Team Tackle Goshen

Howe, Ind., Nov. 4.—After having celebrated Founders' day before a large crowd made up of patrons and alumni, by defeating Garrett 13-0, the Howe cadet squad is being pointed to the game with Goshen on Saturday. The entire cadet corps, including the band, will be at Goshen. A special train over the New York Central will carry the boys.

REGULAR PURPLE ENDS BOTH ON INJURED LIST

Injuries are beginning to lessen Northwestern university football team's chances for victory over Michigan at Ann Arbor Saturday. When the Purple and Wolverines line up one and possibly two regular Northwestern ends may not start the game. Wally Seidel is confined to his home with a mild attack of the flu, while Barney Mathews is hobbling around with the aid of a cane.

Both men went on the ailing list following the rough and tumble with Indiana last Saturday. It is expected that Mathews will be able to play before the Wolverine game, but Seidel's case is extremely doubtful.

Drill Reserve Ends.
Not to be taught without an experienced set of wing men, Coach Thistlethwaite yesterday began grooming "Red" Cole and Jack Lelmeier for the end positions. Both men have been improving in this week's workouts. Harold White forgot about his ailing leg and ran through signals with the second team.

Before the regulars tackled the fresh in a scrimmage, the first eleven ran through signals with Edmunds at left half back. He is the fastest man on the squad and may be started against Michigan. New plays, involving Edmunds and Baker, were sprung on the frosh and met with considerable success.

Ben Nichols, Golf Pro, Dies in Philadelphia

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 4.—(Special.)—A famed character in Philadelphia golf is being mourned by his many friends here today. Ben Nichols, golf pro, died this morning in a local hospital. Nichols will be buried here on Thursday afternoon in the Norwood cemetery. A brother, Gil Nichols, also famed in the golf world, is expected here for the funeral ceremonies.

Woods and Waters by Bob Becker

PHEASANT HAS ITS BOOSTERS.
HAS spent many years studying our game birds and who now asserts that the pheasant will have to take the place of native American game birds that cannot stand the gaff in many localities.

It is, of course, true that the ring neck is a hardy bird. Hard winters such as they have in the far west or in northern New York are death to quail, but the pheasant apparently rides through the storms in fine style. And another thing, no matter how much we may jump on the ring neck because he won't lie well to a dog and instead sulks, sneaks, and runs through the cover, the pheasant fans point out that the ring neck is a bird of civilization and as such thrives when quail and prairie chicken cannot live.

EASTERN FANS RATE N. D. BEST IN U. S.

New York, Nov. 4.—(By Associated Press.)—Football, to eastern fans, is gradually assuming a national rather than a sectional focus. Notre Dame, which has long been almost alone in bringing here the football gospel of the middle west, has been sharply added this year by the accomplishments of Red Grange and Illinois, and the victory of Marquette over the Navy.

Rate N. D. Strongest.
Alabama, alone among the prominent teams of the nation which has an uncrossed goal line, increased the respect toward southern football by beating Georgia Tech which had previously defeated Penn State, one of the ranking cleaves of the east.

While critics here discuss the relative claims of Pennsylvania, Dartmouth, Lafayette and Army to the honors of this section, there is a general assumption that none of the four could defeat Rockne's squad, on the form it exhibited in outclassing Army and Princeton.

N. Y. Wants to See Ill.
Although Princeton will not meet Notre Dame next season, other important teams are rumored as angling for the date. Pennsylvania has announced that negotiations were in progress for a home-and-home series with the Hoosiers, and Harvard has also been mentioned as a prospective opponent.

Grange is willingly accorded the place of honor among the season's players and is generally accepted as a marvel. There is a strong desire to see the Illinois star and a Zupke team in action in New York next year and it is rumored that a contest with Syracuse at the Yankee stadium is a possibility.

Grange in Demand.
Illinois, by virtue of its heavy scoring against Michigan and Iowa, is regarded as one of the great offensive machines of the era and sentiment here would welcome a post-season game which would pit the individual brilliance of Grange against the Milky Way of Layden, Crowley, Stuhldreher and Miller of Notre Dame.

GRANGE & CO. STRONG FAVORITES ON MIDWAY

NO MORE DUCATS
HOPEFUL seekers for tickets to Stagg field to witness the Chicago-Illinois grid battle Saturday are out of luck.

All seats at the Midway stadium for the game have been disposed of long since, no one except students and alumni of the schools being sold seats. And the folks who have secured the ducats seem to be holding to them pretty tightly, an offer of $65 having been turned down at one fraternity house by a Maroon student yesterday, indicating the futility with which the aforementioned seekers seek.

The so-called dope on the Illinois-Chicago game at the Midway Saturday remains at just about a standstill, with Illinois still ruling as a strong favorite despite the powerful showing the Maroons have made in their previous games, the cleverness of Coach Stagg, and the hopeful attitude of the U. of C. players.

The Maroons and their followers seem to realize that it won't be Mr. Red Grange alone that they must stop. They credit the entire Illinois team with something more than ordinary ability, and Stagg is taking the threats of the strong Orange and Blue line, of Britton, Capt. Rokusek, and the rest as pretty serious propositions.

One of the weak spots in Chicago's defensive work this season has been in tackling open field runners. Bob Zupke of Illinois would have been pleased with the failures of some of the Maroon backs as they vainly sought to nab the frosh in tackling practice last night. There was little hard hitting and very little halting of the yearlings.

The line having received Stagg's personal attention Monday night, the backs came in for their share of work on offensive plays in last night's drill. The men proceeded with their work—

LOCAL GOLF

AUGUST CLAETSEENS, professional at the Glen Flora club of Waukegan, has gone to the Phoenix Country club of Arizona for the winter.

Jim Carberry, the Shoreview professional, will leave Dec. 1 to resume his duties at the Highland Park club of Florida.

George Turnbull, former professional at the Midland club, who died suddenly at the Firecrest club of Tacoma last week, was buried at Tacoma, Wash. The Illinois Professional Golfers' association, of which George was a member when here, sent a message. Two winters ago he taught at the Chicago Athletic association.

Charles E. Karstrom, who was president of the Bob O'Link Golf club when it divorced its women players, was re-elected at the annual meeting. The other officers are vice president, Richmond Nicholas; secretary, C. J. Watson; treasurer, A. E. Bobbitt; directors, T. C. Butz, Charles H. Hermer, E. A. Martin, and John L. Flanagan. The club has made a number of changes in its course and will be in fine shape next season.

Hole in One Club

Rockne to Teach Grid School in Colorado

Denver, Colo., Nov. 4.—Knut Rockne, football coach of Notre Dame university, has advised several athletes at Regis college here that he will come to Denver next summer to conduct a school for football coaches. The school will be held from July 5 to 25. Rockne will coach football and W. E. Meanwell, coach of University of Wisconsin, an authority on basketball, will give instructions in that game.

BAKER, PU STAR, OLITFIELD MATE OF PAN ANGE

BY WALLACE ABBEY.

About two years ago followers of University of Illinois grid teams were speculating on the power of a backfield that would present Harold (Red) Grange and Ralph (Moon) Baker at opposite halves. It was the fall of 1922 and on the freshman squad at Urbana these two boys, "Red" Grange and "Moon" Baker, were the stars. They were rated on a par with Bob Zupke. They were both to be sensations on the 1923 team.

This is a fact not generally known, for now Baker is the idol of Northwestern university and Grange has attained national, even international fame, as a Zupke player. There came a parting of the ways.

Today these two players are tied for high scoring honors in the Purple's four victories to date and Grange has had a mighty hand in the title dash of the Illinois.

Baker Has Triple Threat. Football experts over the entire conference are wondering what would have been the result if Baker had remained at Illinois. They point out that, without anything like the interference and general team support accorded Grange the Purple half has risen to the heights of stardom. He has done it practically alone.

Last fall a combination of circumstances caused Baker to change from Illinois to Northwestern. He consequently lost a year and was ineligible to play for the Purple in 1923.

Baker is in the best sense of the word a triple threat all back. His running, kicking and passing is the saving grace of the present Purple team. Grange's contribution to the Illinois has been nine touchdowns, while Baker has scored five touchdowns, five drop kicks from the field and nine drop kicks for extra points after touchdowns.

Great Open Field Runner. Reports from Urbana this fall have been to the effect that Grange is being developed into a kicker and passer, but to date he has been called on for nothing except runs. In this respect Baker must be given the edge to date, for he figures in three out of every four Purple plays. His varied abilities have probably brought Coach Thistlethwaite's team more gains than the efforts of the other three backs combined.

Like Grange, Baker is an excellent open field runner. Against Purdue he returned one punt 60 yards and others 35 and 40 yards. Against the Hoosiers last Saturday he intercepted a pass on his 40 yard mark and ripped 40 yards through a broken field, almost scoring a touchdown. The only reason Baker is not on the receiving end of many passes is because there is no one to throw them but himself.

Baker a Marked Man. Followers of the Purple are speculating on what Baker will be able to do against the Wolverines at Ann Arbor Saturday. Like Grange, he will be a marked man.

In addition to his football skill Baker is a basketball player of note and Coach Maury Kent of Northwestern is counting on him as one of the main cogs of the Purple five this winter.

OHIO TO HONOR OLYMPIC STARS

Columbus, O., Nov. 4.—In the presence of thousands of spectators, assembled for the Indiana-Ohio State football game here Saturday, tribute will be paid the six Buckeye athletes who have borne the red and gray abroad in the Olympics of 1912 and 1924.

The sextet includes six runners and two wrestlers. The former are Garret Wilcox, middle distance runner and captain of the 1912 varsity track team, whose home is in Columbus; Clement C. Cooke, Columbus, sprinter and broad jumper; C. Russell Payne, Cincinnati, middle distance and steeplechase runner; and George J. Guthrie, Elyria, hurdler.

Harry Steel, East Sparta, and Perry Martor, who now lives in Los Angeles, but who formerly resided here, are the two wrestlers.

Dana Evans Returns to Purple After Illness

Dana Evans, athletic director at Northwestern university, has returned to his duties after a long illness that has kept him at his home since early this fall. Mr. Evans has recovered, but has to take things easy, he says. It is his intention to accompany Northwestern gridgers when they play Michigan at Ann Arbor on Saturday.

PAT'S LONG RUN DECIDES SERVICE TILT IN GOTHAM

New York, Nov. 4.—[Special.]—Pat Timberlake repeated history today at the Polo grounds, when he intercepted a forward pass against the Seventh regiment eleven, dashed fifty yards to a touchdown, and turned defeat into victory for the Third army corps in the last few minutes of play, 7 to 6. Two years ago the same Pat Timberlake, then a cadet at West Point, Philadelphia, and carried the Army to victory against the Navy at the historic struggle named its close.

UTAH TO FILL DATE ON STANFORD CARD

Stanford University, Cal., Nov. 4.—University of Utah will fill the place in the football schedule of Stanford university next Saturday, which was left vacant by the cancellation yesterday by the University of Southern California of its scheduled game. It was announced here today. The contest will be played in Berkeley, Cal.

The southern university canceled its game following the announcement of Stanford and the University of California last Saturday that after the present football season they would discontinue athletic relations with the University of Southern California.

Confirmed by Utah.

Salt Lake City, Utah, Nov. 4.—University of Utah and Stanford university will meet on the gridiron at Berkeley, Cal., next Saturday, according to announcement here today. The arrangements for the game were completed today and the Utah team will leave for California on Thursday.

Camp May Arbitrate.

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 4.—[Special.]—Proposals have been informally made to athletic representatives of Southern California, Stanford, and University of California suggesting a three cornered parley under supervision of Walter Camp when that football expert comes to the coast for the California-Stanford game within two weeks. No answer was returned from any of the three schools, which broke all sports relations in the last three days.

Southern California already has correspondence under way regarding 1925 football games with Syracuse, Nebraska, Washington State, Oregon, and University of Oklahoma. It was stated today.

TICKETS ALL SOLD FOR MICHIGAN GAME AT OHIO

Columbus, O., Nov. 4.—The ticket supply for the Ohio State-Michigan football game in the Ohio stadium Nov. 15 has been exhausted, Henry D. Taylor, who has charge of ticket sales for Ohio State university, announced today. No more orders will be accepted, he said.

This means that some 63,000 spectators are assured for the contest, which is the permanent seating capacity of the stadium. No temporary stands will be erected, Mr. Taylor said.

Scott High Is Seeking Grid Game for Nov. 15

Toledo, O., Nov. 4.—[Special.]—Scott High school football team here is without a game for Saturday Nov. 15. Mythical school board champions of the United States for the last two years, the team is not up to standard, but has not been defeated so far this season. C. H. Meisner, director of athletics at Scott, would like to hear from teams desiring games in the new Scott stadium opened this year.

FOOTBALL CAMPS

MICHIGAN. ANN ARBOR, Mich., Nov. 4.—[Special.]—Reserve linemen were given a chance to perform in the Wolverine forward wall today, when it was learned that Babcock, regular tackle, because of injuries, would not get into the fray against Northwestern. Sampson looked best and may get the call on Saturday. The backfield lineup is still up in the air, as it is not yet certain that Steger and Friedman will play. Coaches are spending their efforts at improving the interference. Ralph Baker's characteristics are getting a thorough going over, so that the Wolverines will not be taken by surprise when the Purple star performs here.

OHIO STATE.

Columbus, O., Nov. 4.—[Special.]—With Tackle Nichols and Full Back Devere sitting on the side lines, their injured ankles in bandages, Coach Wilcox sent his first and second teams through hard workouts this afternoon on the second day of the campaign of preparations for the Indiana invasion Saturday. The varsity went through a snail drill to polish up on its new play it took the field against a scrub eleven drilled in Indiana plays.

INDIANA.

Bloomington, Ind., Nov. 4.—[Special.]—Hans on to the men tackled is Coach Ingram's warning this week to his Indiana football squad in scrimmages with the freshmen practice team. The coaches made good use of the day by spending two extra hours on the gridiron getting ready for the Ames game Saturday. Gopher coaches today began changing their entire style of play for Saturday because two Ames coaches, J. N. McCall and George Hauser, worked with Bill Spaulding for two years and know every in and out of his style.

MINNESOTA.

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 4.—[Special.]—Given a full holiday from their classrooms on election day, the Gophers made good use of the day by spending two extra hours on the gridiron getting ready for the Ames game Saturday. Gopher coaches today began changing their entire style of play for Saturday because two Ames coaches, J. N. McCall and George Hauser, worked with Bill Spaulding for two years and know every in and out of his style.

YALE.

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 4.—[Special.]—Lineup changes amounting to a moderate shakeup today marked the opening of scrimmages at practice for the week by the Yale eleven. The coaches made good use of the day by spending two extra hours on the gridiron getting ready for the Ames game Saturday. Gopher coaches today began changing their entire style of play for Saturday because two Ames coaches, J. N. McCall and George Hauser, worked with Bill Spaulding for two years and know every in and out of his style.

NOTRE DAME.

Notre Dame, Ind., Nov. 4.—[Special.]—Notre Dame grid hopes were dampened tonight when the school's announced Eddie Scherer, second string quarterback, would be sidelined in the football game through out the remainder of the season. The announcement followed a consultation over an injury to Scherer's hand in the Georgia Tech game Saturday. This leaves Rockne with only one string quarterback back upon whom to depend during the next four weeks. Scrimmage was held tonight and will probably be a part of the regular daily drill. A call for help was sent out on the campus late today, and nothing will be left undone in the quest for relief in the remaining games.

PRINCETON.

Princeton, N. J., Nov. 4.—[Special.]—Defensive drill against the Harvard plays was the order of the Tigers today, with special emphasis on stopping the hidden ball plays which have played so large a part in the repertoire of the Crimson of the last two years. Red Howard, whose two years' experience against Harvard made him invaluable to the line, was back at right guard in Davis' place and will probably start Saturday. Ed McMillan also returned to center.

SATURDAY'S GAMES.

Oak Park at Evansville. Thornton at Waukegan. Proviso at New Trier. Riverside at Blue Island. University High at Morton.

Scandal cropped out yesterday in Division B of the City Public High school football league when Wendell Phillips gridders were forced to forfeit a league victory over Morgan Park. Capt. Logan of Phillips, it is alleged, forged a signature of a teacher in order to take part in the game, which his school won by the score of 27 to 14.

In keeping with the rules of the league, Principal Albert W. Evans, upon hearing of Logan's offense, promptly notified the board of control that the game had been forfeited, which raises Morgan Park from a lowly position in the standing to a tie for first place.

The deception came to light yesterday when Edward C. Delaporte, secretary of the board of control, was checking up the age of another Phillips player by the name of Williams. Williams was not able to prove his age satisfactorily and was barred from further athletic competition in the city league.

Loss of these two men from the football squad brought gloom for the school's chances in the league. Logan, an all around athlete, was regarded as one of the stars of the season, while Williams has scored most of the team's points.

This ruling does not affect the status of the school during the remainder of the season.

AUDUBONS MEET ARROWS.

The Audubons of the north side will tackle the La Vergne Arrows at Sloan's park Sunday afternoon in the midweight championship battle of the Midwest football league, the game being listed for 2:30.

SPEED REO WAGON

Master of Highway Transport

BACK of the Speed Wagon are the tremendous resources of the Reo institution.

For more than twenty years Reo has been a leader in the automotive industry. Progressive carefulness has marked its policies. At no time has it been reorganized or refinanced. Few concerns in the industry are as financially sound.

The Speed Wagon has been manufactured continuously since 1914. Changes in its design have been so gradual that no Speed Wagon has ever been rendered obsolete.

That the permanence of Reo and the Speed Wagon is absolute, is a sharp appeal to good buying judgment.

Capacity, 500 to 2500 pounds. Twelve standard bodies. Chassis, $1185 at Lansing. More than 100,000 serving in every business field. Designed and manufactured in the big Reo shops—see numbers.

FUR TO FLY IN GARDINI-LONDOS CLASH TONIGHT

When Renato Gardini and Jim Londos meet in the feature match of Proctor's wrestling show at the Coliseum tonight they will have both ended confidence in their ability due to their showing made at the wrestling tournament in Philadelphia, which lasted for two weeks and closed Saturday night.

During those two weeks they successfully disposed of every contender pitted against them. Gardini was crowned king of the heavyweight division at the tournament, but during the whole two weeks he did not have an opportunity to meet Londos. Jim, while winning all of his matches in championship style, is rather pensive over the laurels bestowed upon the Italian and is determined to prove to the fans here that he is Renato's master on the mat.

Both in Good Shape.

The fact that both grapplers won the championship of the two weeks in Philadelphia over worthy opponents is a good indication that they are in top form for their match tonight, and they are expected to be on hand to cheer their favorite over the rough spots and on to victory.

Another Good Bout.

The semi-windup between Oreste Vadalà and Wladek Zhyzko looks good enough to feature a regular show. Oreste is out to win in fast time, and the Pole is just as determined to put the Italian in the discard. This match is for one fall only, which must be completed by 10 o'clock, when the promoters say the main bout will go on.

DEMPSEY TO GET OFFER OF BOUT WITH GIBBONS

New York, Nov. 4.—[Special.]—While the majority of boxing fans have no idea that Jack Dempsey will be seen in action in a real ring encounter during the indoor season, there is a possibility, just a bare possibility, that the heavyweight champion will exhibit his wares inside the squared circle before the end of winter.

Eddie Kane, manager of Tom Gibbons, arrived in town yesterday and set the wheels in motion for a bout with Dempsey. Within the next few days, Dempsey will receive an offer to meet Gibbons in Madison Square Garden in a fifteen round bout for the benefit of a well known charity.

The champion will be offered $100,000 for his services, and while this seems like a rather paltry sum in view of Dempsey's recent exorbitant demands, there is not any other way that he can pick up such a sum as easily or as quickly.

ENTRY BLANKS OUT FOR PREP SWIM AT I. A. C.

Entry blanks for the eighteenth annual interscholastic swimming meet to be conducted Dec. 4 by the Illinois A. C. in its pool were mailed yesterday to every high school in Cook county by E. C. Delaporte, athletic director of the city schools. Entries will close with Delaporte Nov. 26.

According to the blank, there will be nine events, including a 160 yard and a mile relay. A. C. rules will govern the competition.

ADOPTED SONS OF UNCLE SAM VOTE A LA OLD WORLD

BY SCRUTATOR.

Even a casual glance at the returns shows one thing very clearly about yesterday's election.

Some of our fellow citizens adopted by Uncle Sam, after foregoing allegiance to foreign potentates, principalities, and powers, are unconsciously guilty of flattery, entirely undeserved in their estimate of the political genius of their new associates.

Millions of them left foreign countries because they could not prosper there.

But once over here, many of them support political programs that would institute here, the very conditions of state control and bureaucracy that they fled.

What leads them to think that American bureaucrats would be so different from European bureaucrats? Or that the economic conditions would be any different?

They must think so.

Hundreds of thousands of them enjoyed the blessings of government ownership of railroads under the czar. Some of their relatives are now enjoying government ownership of what is left of the railroads under the new Russian czar or the new czar in Poland.

But many of them voted for the same thing over here.

Why would state socialism function any better for the workers here than it has functioned there?

Such a belief, it seems to the writer, attaches undue importance to racial or national characteristics.

Registration and espionage of industry have the same repressive effect in all lands. Bureaucrats are brothers under their skins, regardless of freckles or shading.

Industrial liberty has enhanced the wealth of all nations and the welfare of all peoples who have given it even temporary trial. The political attitudes that support a regime of industrial freedom may indeed inhere in some peoples more strongly than in others, but so far as the economic effects of free enterprise are concerned they are the same in Japan as in California.

We have been afforded the curious spectacle of trade union leaders, whose followers are largely engaged in the garment trades and have had first hand knowledge of the repressive effects of too much government, giving support to a political movement, which had a program that could not possibly result in anything but an extension of government into business.

There is not in such a program the faintest hint of more wages or shorter hours for a single cloak maker in all this land.

There is certainly a threat of lessened control over the industries in which they are engaged, which they now practically dominate. The only limit to their power in fact is the price that the public will pay.

What becomes of "economic determinism" or the "materialistic conception of history" under such circumstances. Many of the leaders of those trades profess belief in those two cardinal shibboleths of Marxism. But did they not support a movement, which was headed toward the enhancement of the power of the geographical democratic state of the "petty bourgeoisie"? Look like they did. Comrade Zack Foster says they did, in slightly different language. But Foster believes in the shibboleths too.

Of course they are metaphysical nonsense, as remote from modern conceptions of the dynamics of social progress as the incantations of the witches in Macbeth.

But shibboleths are often powerful irrespective of what they seem to mean. They frequently come to stand for mass emotions that are flat contradiction to the literal meaning of the formulae. Marx means as little to his followers in their practical politics, as Jefferson meant to Democrats who enacted prohibition laws.

Brooklyn Edison.

T. W. I.—The Brooklyn Edison company, Inc., does all the electric light and power business in the borough of Brooklyn (except in the 25th ward). New York City, serving without competition a population of over 2,000,000. The number of consumers has increased from 42,322 on Dec. 31, 1913, to 125,438 on Sept. 30, 1924. The company is earning $25,000,000 general mortgage series A 5 per cent bonds due 1945, making a total of $33,500,000 bonds now outstanding under this mortgage. The proceeds of these series A bonds will be used to refund $2,000,000 series C 7 1/2 and $5,000,000 series D 7 (to be called for redemption Jan. 1, 1925 and Dec. 1, 1924, respectively, and to reimburse the company in part for capital expenditures already made. The cost of the fixed properties is carried on the books at over $100,000,000, while the outstanding mortgage debt consists of the general mortgage bonds and $11,951,000 underlying closed mortgage bonds, total being $45,451,000, or less than 50 per cent of such cost. Gross earnings have more than quadrupled in the last ten years. For the twelve months ended Sept. 30, 1924, the income available for interest, after all expenses, taxes and retirement reserves, was $7,981,525, or over 2 1/2 times annual interest charges of $3,277,244 on the total funded debt now outstanding, including the present issue. These bonds are a sound investment.

FINANCIAL NOTES

The attitude of the administration on a private loan to France, it was said at the White House yesterday, would be dictated by the general policy of giving approval to those loans used in restoration and reconstruction of distressed countries. Loans used in reproductive efforts, it was said, would be given approval, as would those for the installation of new monetary systems. Loans to be used only for financing military organizations would not be looked on with favor.

Steel bookings for October in the Chicago district were the heaviest of any month in two years and it is estimated the increase in business, commencing October with September, was from 50 to 60 per cent. Several large tonnages were booked last week and many more are expected to be closed by the end of the present week. Approximately 16,000 tons of structural steel are involved in the South Water street improvement in Chicago, and it is understood that the tonnage will be distributed before Saturday.

Orders have been placed at the Altoona works of the Pennsylvania for the construction of fifty electric switching locomotives of an entirely new design, to be known as the class C-1.

A Charge for Keeping Gold

THE day of the goldsmith, who kept your money in his strong box and charged for its safeguarding, passed with our ancestors. People nowadays rightly expect accommodation in various directions when they leave money with a banker.

Very few of us go through a business career without needing advice or active help from bankers, and, when such help is needed most, it is often hardest to obtain unless a strong banking connection has been made with a banker who is really interested in seeing your business grow.

A banker, of course, has no greater foresight than other business men, but his contact with many business men in varied lines of industry gives him a composite view of conditions that can be of value to his customers. He acts as a distributing center of information regarding business conditions.

Calvin Coolidge Re-elected President and Charles G. Dawes Elected Vice President by Landslide Vote

[Harris & Ewing Photo.]

THERE'LL BE NO CHANGE AT THIS DESK. President Calvin Coolidge, who won a sweeping victory in yesterday's election, is shown at the executive desk.

[Harris & Ewing Photo.]

AT THE HELM OF THE SHIP OF STATE. President Coolidge and Vice President-elect Dawes were photographed together shortly after the Cleveland convention which nominated them for the two highest offices in the nation. (Story on page one.)

[J. B. Tolson Photo.]

DAWES' DAUGHTER. Mrs. M. B. Ericson, daughter of the Vice President-elect.

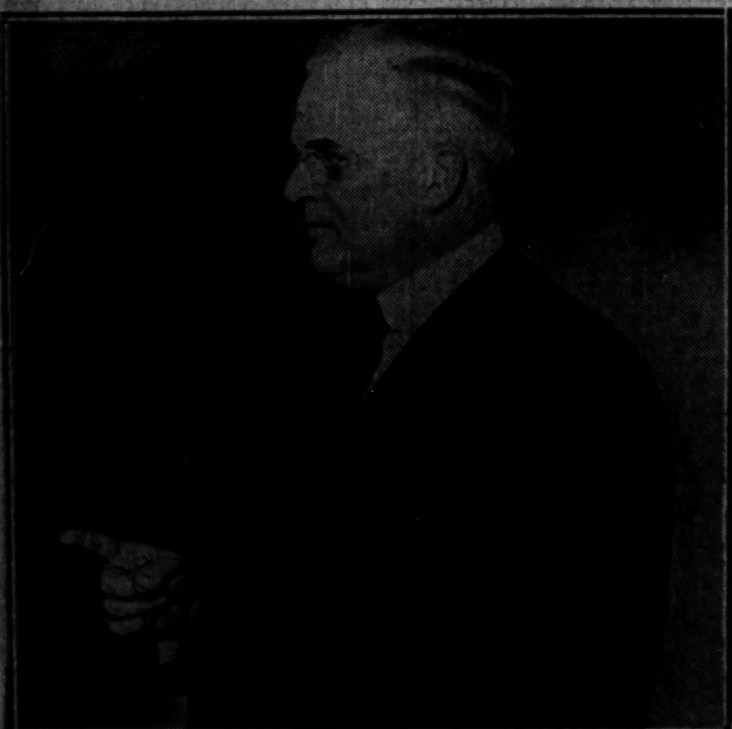

[Copyright: Harris & Ewing.]

FIRST LADIES OF THE LAND. Mrs. Calvin Coolidge (at the left) and Mrs. Charles G. Dawes. Picture was taken at the executive mansion on July 3, last.

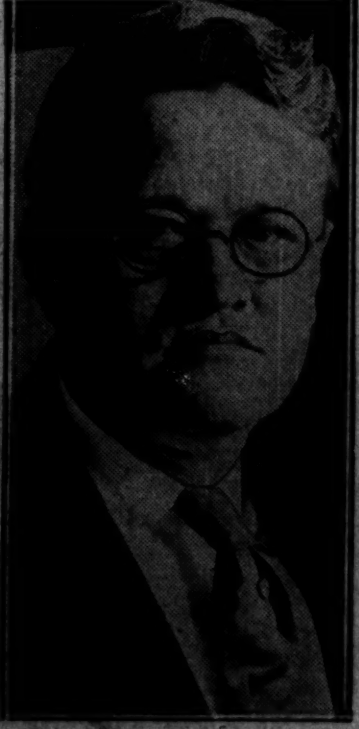

[Harris & Ewing Photo.]

NATION KEEPS THEM IN THE WHITE HOUSE. President and Mrs. Coolidge with their son, John, and the President's father, who frequently leaves his Vermont farm to visit his son.

ILLINOIS' NEW SENATOR. Returns from Chicago and downstate show Charles S. Deneen, Republican, has defeated A. A. Sprague for senator.

WINNER. State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe, Republican, is re-elected.

[Kabel & Herbert Photo.]

RE-ELECTED. Gov. Al Smith of New York, who defeated Theodore Roosevelt, G. O. P. candidate.

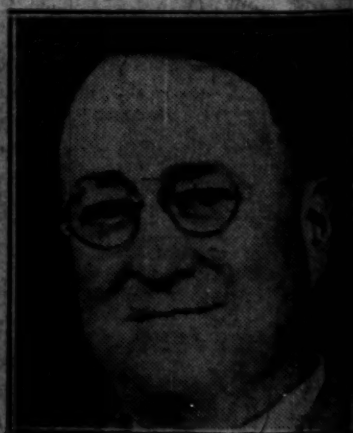

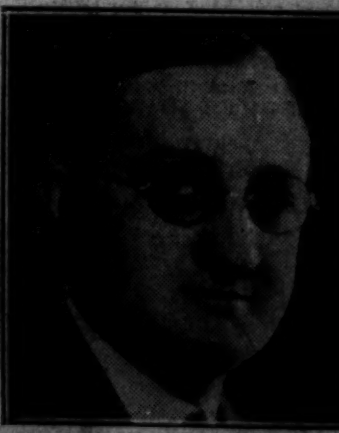

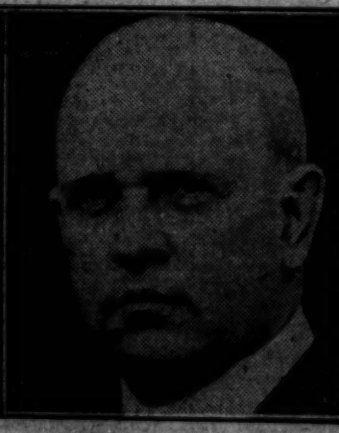

[Harris & Ewing Photo.]

TO RULE TEXAS? Mrs. Miriam Ferguson, Democrat, is apparently elected governor.

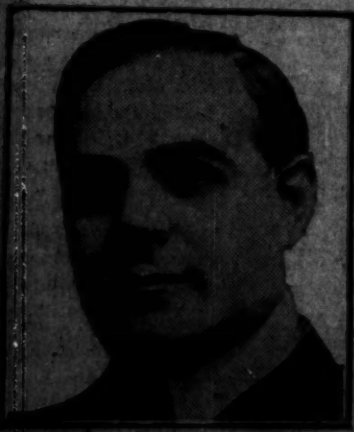

[Tribune Photo.]

DAWES GOES TO VOTE. Accompanied by their son, Dana, Brig. Gen. and Mrs. Charles G. Dawes start for polling place in Evanston. It took the G. O. P. vice presidential winner just one minute to cast his ballot.

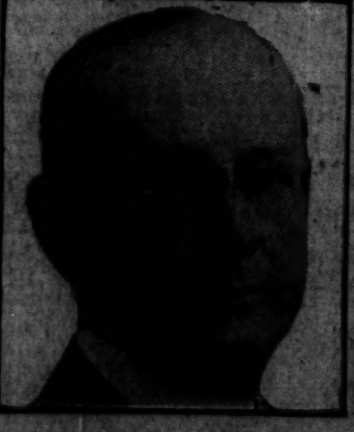

[Chambers Photo.]

CHARLES KRUTCKOFF
(Member Board of Assessors)

JOHN K. LAWLER
(Salary District Trustee)

THOMAS O. WALLACE
(Clerk of Circuit Court)

JOSEPH F. HAAS
(Recorder)

CHARLES RINGER

BERNARD W. SNOW
(Ballot Municipal Court)

WILLIAM H. WEBER
(Member Board of Review)

AUGUST W. MILLER
(Salary District Trustee)

REPUBLICANS SWEEP COUNTY OFFICES. None of the Democratic candidates in Cook county was able to overcome the advantage which their G. O. P. rivals received in the huge national triumph of Coolidge and Dawes. The above are some of the county winners.
